

Proposals for GM plant are ready

Madison and St. Clair counties are well represented as proposals to attract a new General Motors Corp. plant are prepared by communities throughout the county.

The Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs plans to deliver 108 proposals for sites in more than 60 Illinois communities to GM officials in Detroit Wednesday, according to Governor James R. Thompson.

AMONG THOSE are several in this region. The Southwestern Illinois Leadership Council, headed by Carl Mathias of Granite City, is proposing several sites in Madison and St. Clair counties.

Glen Wilson, Pontoon Beach Village Board president, also has submitted details on a possible site for the plant.

In addition, East St. Louis Mayor Carl Officer is offering a site in his city and the Norfolk & Southern Corporation has a site proposed in this area.

GRANITE CITY did not submit plans since GM's rules prohibit building in any floodplain area, even if it is protected by a levee. Granite City officials have, however, given their support for locating the plant anywhere in this area, where it could provide employment to local residents.

The proposed GM Saturn plant is expected to employ approximately 6,000 persons.

Governor Thompson noted, "The response to our call for local input has been overwhelming. Site proposals have come from every region of the state."

"THE QUALITY of the proposals attests to the enthusiasm that exists in Illinois for bringing those 6,000 Saturn jobs to our state. Community leaders obviously have put in many hours of hard work and lots of imagination," the governor noted.

"One community delivered T-shirts with the town name and another sent a videotape extolling the community's virtues. A third chartered a private plane to deliver their proposal before the deadline."

"The most emotional plea came from a town in Southern Illinois which sent, along with their site proposal, nearly 300 letters from unemployed residents. The letters are being turned over to the Job Service to see what immediate assistance can be provided," he said.

HE REPORTED that 79 communities and organizations submitted 179 site proposals. DCCA officials estimated those proposals which failed to meet GM's minimum site standards, such as acreage and proximity to interstate highway, rail and air service. The Illinois Department of Transportation and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency aided DCCA in the review process.

The Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois agreed immediately that a site in either Madison County or St. Clair County would aid the economy of the entire area and agreed not to favor either county in the selection of proposed sites.

The governor commended such actions, saying, "Many communities have put aside differences and joined forces to propose sites that would benefit a region of the state, as opposed to a particular community. I believe this type of cooperation will impress GM and enhance Illinois' chances of landing the Saturn project."

DCCA DIRECTOR Michael T. Woelfer commented, "The proposals we take to Detroit will provide GM officials with a wealth of information on Illinois. GM has assured me that they are willing to spend all day with us Wednesday, if necessary, going over the proposals. 'A team of my top marketing executives, each with expertise in a particular region of the state, will accompany me to Detroit, so that they can readily answer any questions that might arise during GM's initial review process.'"

"Our efforts won't end Wednesday. We expect to continue to communicate frequently with GM until a site for the Saturn plant is selected. GM already has applauded Illinois' approach of having a single government entity coordinate the submission of site proposals and we intend to keep Illinois high on GM's list of possible sites for the Saturn plant," Woelfer said.

SPECIFIC details on proposed Illinois sites, as well as state and local incentive packages, are being kept confidential so other states will not have a competitive edge, Woelfer said.

Madison County sites proposed are believed to include: along Interstate 55-70 on both sides of the I-270 junction, St. Clair County sites are adjacent to the Belle Valley Industrial Park in Belleville; at Interstate 64 and Route 150 near O'Fallon, and a 1,100-acre site between East St. Louis, Centerville, Cahokia and Sauer.

Madison and St. Clair county officials have been quoted as saying the county incentives—not including private assistance or aid from the state or other governmental bodies—total more than $40 million.

In addition, Governor Thompson has said that he will match or exceed any other state's offer of incentives for the plant. GM is expected to make its choice of a site in about four months.

After GM announced the Saturn proposal, Illinois was the first state to contact GM and express an interest in bringing the new plant to the state. Input from Illinois communities then was sought through a series of public briefings around the state, which were attended by local leaders.

Saturn, the first new GM division since 1918, is being promoted as a new concept in automobile manufacturing. The subcompact Saturn automobile is intended to compete directly with Japanese cars in cost, fuel efficiency and dependability.

The Saturn facility is expected to encompass 4- to 5-million square feet.

Mehelic withdraws; wife to run

By SUSANNE INDELICATO of the Press-Record

Melba Mehelic will be allowed to run for Nameoki Township highway commissioner April 2, the result of a ruling by an electoral board Friday afternoon.

Meanwhile, her husband, former Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic, will not seek the office after withdrawing from his candidacy Thursday afternoon, the last day to do so.

THE ELECTORAL board, comprised of Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs, Town Clerk

Donald "Lee" Ridgeway and Trustee Joseph Garcia, met to consider objections filed by highway commission dispatcher Shirley Denison. Specifically, Mrs. Denison objected to Mrs. Mehelic's petitions on the grounds that:

Signatures on Mrs. Mehelic's petitions were duplicates of those found on petitions circulated by Mr. Mehelic for the same post. Illinois statutes provide that a registered voter cannot sign more than one candidate's petition for a specific office.

Some of the signatures on Mrs. Mehelic's petitions were those of persons not duly registered in the township.

That signatures on Mrs. Mehelic's petitions were obtained by someone other than Mrs. Mehelic.

That the signatures were not numbered correctly on the petitions.

That Mrs. Mehelic's statement of economic interest was not filed by the Jan. 21 deadline.

BUT THE electoral board found that the question of duplicate signatures was moot (without legal significance), since Mr. Mehelic had withdrawn his candidacy for township highway commissioner.

Briggs noted that no precedence has been set on whether the duplications should be considered when one candidate has withdrawn. Had the board considered the question, he added, Mrs. Mehelic could appeal the ruling to the circuit court. We might start an innovation here," he stated, "but we don't want to do that."

Earlier, Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles told the electoral board that the duplication question was moot because Mr. Mehelic had withdrawn. But Nameoki Township

Better, bigger behavior center predicted

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

Improved facilities and effectiveness are being predicted for the southern section of the Madison County Educational Therapy Center (ETC), now that its leasing of the idle Lake School was approved 7-0 by the Granite City School Board Thursday night.

Superintendent Frank L. Kraus, who recommended the action, said the one-year, renewable contract will enable the 41-student center to be moved here immediately from the small Canteen School in the Collinsville district.

PARENTS AND PUPILS praised the program for behaviorally disordered students, who total 17 from Granite City, four from Madison, one from Venice, 14 from Collinsville, three from Edwardsville and two from Troy.

Four other local youngsters are to be assigned now that adequate space is available. Special Education Director Steve Balen told 50 persons at a public hearing and Board of Education meeting, conducted at Coolidge Junior High School on an evening when the temperature outside was zero.

First Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish presented petitions with 96 signatures asking that the daytime therapy center not be located at the East 23rd Street school. But board members concluded they had an obligation to provide a building, and that it would be better to place the center in a somewhat isolated school rather than at Logan, near busy Prather Elementary School.

Bowler bows out of GC mayor's race

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record Editor

Granite City Alderman Paul Ray Bowler withdrew from politics—at least the next four years—Thursday afternoon as he announced that he is taking his name off this April's ballot for Granite City mayor and, now or in two years.

In withdrawing from the mayor's race, Bowler urged his supporters to vote for Granite City Street Superintendent Mac Warfield for mayor of the city.

"WE NOW HAVE a choice. There have been 20 years of two groups taking turns raping the city. You have them again or you have Mac," Bowler contended.

Warfield, who is Madison County's Democratic Central Committee chairman, thanked Bowler for the support and predicted victory in April. "We think we have enough people on our side to win. There are a lot of politicians and business people on our side. People have talked to us for 20 months. I finally decided, for the betterment of the city, I would run," Warfield said.

Bowler said his political future is unclear, but he will spend the next few months helping Warfield. "I won't run again for alderman. If Mike Modrusis wants to run again in 1987, I will support him, because he's doing quite a job out there. As for my long range goals, I will have an assess that later on. Right now, I am assessing our city and our community," Bowler stated.

said in his first campaign for mayor that he didn't think anyone should serve more than two terms. He has served that." (Schuler has been mayor since 1981 and is seeking reelection to his fourth four-year term).

WARFIELD SAYS he can help improve the city as mayor. "I can do it. I proved that in the street department," he said. "Paul (Schuler) is saying he is getting $300,000 for sewer breaks (repairs). Paul is taking the credit. I have done this. I and (State Representative) Sam Wolf. Sam has almost assured me that we will get the $300,000."

Mayor Schuler takes the credit for bringing (Illinois Attorney General) Neil Hartigan's office here. I brought that office to Granite City. There is $200,000 budgeted for that. Sam (Wolf) helped me a great deal," Warfield said.

He pledged that he will be a full-time mayor, if elected. "I will work and I will be in that office when people come in," he said.

BOWLER concluded that he ran for mayor because he wanted people to have a choice. "Since Mac stands for the same things I do, I decided to withdraw and back him. We stand for the same things. With us working together, there is a definite choice," he said.

Happy multiplier news

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

"You deserve a break today," the Madison County Board of Review has just told most local real estate owners.

It set a multiplier of one for Venice Township and negative multipliers of 98.84 percent for Granite City, 97.97 percent for Nameoki Township and an appealing 90.87 percent for Chouteau Township.

A PUBLIC HEARING on the proposals has been set for 10 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 21, at the Board of Review room, 116 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville.

A notice by the three-member board (Chairman Robert Harris, Shirley Voegels and Fred Finck), relates that the board sees a necessity to "equalize real property assessments in the county."

"The Illinois Department of Revenue has issued a tentative county multiplier of 1.0000 but the following changes will go into effect to equalize the townships between themselves."

FOUR OF THE 24 townships will get no new multiplier—Venice, Collinsville, Godfrey and Alhambra. The board increased assessments in seven townships—Edwardsville by 1.0354, Foster 1.0125, Moro 1.0370, Olive 1.0215, Pin Oak 1.0134, Salline 1.0319 and St. Jacob 1.0322.

Decreases to achieve valuations of one-third of actual value will go into effect for the 1984 tax year (1985 collection) in 13 townships:

Granite City .9884, Nameoki .9797, Chouteau .9087, Alton .9852, Fort Russell .9884, Hamel .9550, Helvetia .9803, Jarvis .9841, Lee .9253, Marine .9520, New Douglas .9780, Omphugh .9258 and Wood River, .9896.

End fireplugs' subsidy

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

Telephone fees have been adjusted so that local and long-distance calls bear their share of the overall cost; now, water costs are to be revised to end subsidizing of fire hydrants.

Municipalities and fire districts are to respond by March 15 with their ideas on the proper payment level for fire protection water service. Some people's water bills will rise July 1 and further changes are likely in 1986.

THE 752 LOCAL fire plugs now are paid for at $10 a year, although Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) records show Illinois American Water Co. (IAW) hydrant-related costs actually total $461 annually per hydrant.

Letters to Madison St. Clair counties municipalities and fire districts ask them to choose between (a) the present yearly charge of $85, (b) whatever other figure a district wishes to pay, or (c) no payment. Failure to choose will be classified as a desire to make no payment.

"We will not be permitted to bill a taxing body for public fire protection charges after July 1 unless there is an agreement in writing to pay a specific amount for such service," the Press-Record was told by R. W. Greaves, IAW vice president and manager.

"BUT THE ICC has authority under a new law, Illinois Public Act 85-1298, to permit collection of any shortfall between the cost of rendering hydrant service and the amount paid by the taxing agency."

"Collection of the shortfall can be either by imposing a separate charge on the bills of individual

New vaccine prevents feline leukemia

Cat owners should be aware of a new vaccine that can help prevent their pet from contracting feline leukemia.

According to Dr. Allan R. Spector, a veterinarian with the Brown Veterinary Clinic in Pontoon Beach, a new medicine called leukocell has been developed and now is available at area clinics. No vaccination to prevent the disease had been available previously.

Feline leukemia is a viral disease of the blood-forming tissues in cats. It reduces the number of white blood cells vital to the cat's immune system, which leaves the cat wide open to other infections. According to available literature, the disease is widespread, affecting one out of every 10 cats in the United States.

The disease also is very contagious, since it is spread through direct contact with the saliva or the urine of infected cats.

According to Dr. Spector, once a cat has contracted the disease, it is not curable. "This is why it is very important to have your cats vaccinated regularly," he said.

To be treated, cats must first undergo a series of three shots. Afterwards the animals should be vaccinated yearly against leukemia, along with their distemper and rabies vaccinations.

Dr. Spector said that the side effects of the vaccination are minimal. "This drug is a big breakthrough in the medical field," he said. "It is the first anti-cancer vaccine ever produced."

For more information, Dr. Spector urges cat owners to contact their veterinarian.

TIRES, BATTERY AMONG LOOT

Leo Deak of 2716 National Ave. told police recently that someone vandalized his truck while it was in the parking lot of Callier Steel in the Cloverleaf Addition. Deak said he returned to his truck to find that someone removed all four tires and placed the truck on blocks. The battery, spare tire, tools and an AM-FM stereo cassette were taken. Entry was made to the inside by breaking out the left vent window. The roof of the truck also was dented.

Meetings planned on wheat and grain set-aside plans

A series of three informational meetings are planned this month on the 1985 wheat and feed grain set-aside programs.

The meetings will be Feb. 5 and 6 at 1:30 p.m. and Feb. 7 at 7:30 p.m., all in the Madison County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office on Old Alton Road in Edwardsville.

All interested Madison County farmers are being encouraged to attend. "Due to the wheat seeding complications experienced this year, program participation may be just the thing you need to help meet cash flow needs this spring. Bring your questions and concerns with you," Paul E. O'Grady, county executive director of the ASCS, suggests.

VEHICLES COLLIDE AT EAST 23RD AND NAMEOKI

An accident at Nameoki Road and East 23rd Street last week, resulted in an injury to Sandra J. Goodman, 40, of 28 Victoria Drive, Pontoon Beach.

Mrs. Goodman's auto was heading west on East 23rd Street when it was struck by a vehicle operated by Deborah C. Sundberg, 34, of 2877 Pershing Blvd., who was traveling south on Nameoki Road.

Talent, program search for Chicago World's Fair begins

Shirley Madigan, chairman of the Arts, Culture and Entertainment Committee, has announced the members of that committee and the start of a work-wide search for talent and programs for the 1992 World's Fair.

"The committee represents a cross section of stellar cultural and entertainment leaders and institutions from throughout the state," according to Mrs. Madigan, who also is chairman of the Illinois Arts Council.

Mrs. Madigan stated, "This committee will focus on identifying the best programs to celebrate our state's cultural resources both on the fairgrounds and in our communities."

"We will reach out to professionals from the worlds of music, dance, theater and of popular entertainment, among others, to bring Illinois world-class cultural presentations fitting for the first universal class fair in this country in more than 50 years," she continued.

In speaking of the committee and its leadership, John D. Kramer, general manager of the Chicago World's Fair - 1992 Authority, said, "I am confident that Shirley Madigan and her committee will help develop, for the fair, one of the most exciting cultural programs ever undertaken anywhere."

"This fair will also call attention to what we are," Mrs. Madigan said.

Inactive temporary special school record destruction

The Madison County Special Education Region 1 cooperative, in accord with local Board of Education policies and the Illinois Student Records Act, plans to destroy inactive special education temporary records.

The cooperative will destroy those temporary special ed records on all students who have graduated from high school or who have finished the staffing process, programming and services at least five years ago.

Parents or guardians of minor or non-competent children may request to review the record of their ward prior to the destruction. All such requests for review are to be made to the director of special education, Region 1, within 30 days.

Director Steve Halen noted that the participating schools of Region 1, Granite City District 9, Venice District 3 and Madison District 12, make available a free and appropriate special education program and supportive services to resident handicapped children.

Eligible children, ages 3-21, are provided with services designed to meet the educational needs of visually impaired, speech, and language impaired retarded, or children with multiple handicapping conditions.

Individuals wishing to refer themselves or their wards may contact the building principal in the school closest to their legal residence or the director of special education at 20th and Adams streets, 876-6900.

"The magnificent miles of Illinois rich in history and tradition - take from the ethnic neighborhoods of Chicago into the historic setting of Galena, and through hundreds of other towns and cities, proud of their history, landmarks, architecture and institutions. We will utilize all the resources that we have, and we must bring in others that would otherwise not be available," she continued.

This 22-member Arts, Culture and Entertainment Committee includes John Buchanan, Lakeview Museum; Margaret Burroughs, DuSable Museum of African American Culture; E. Lawrence Chalmers, Art Institute of Chicago; Victor Danilov, Museum of Science and Industry; Shirley Davidson, arts activist, Springfield; Helyn Goldenberg, Museum of Contemporary Art; Richard Gray, Richard Gray Gallery; Bonnie Hartfield, Urban Gateways; George Irwin, Illinois Arts Council (past chairperson); Ardis Krainik, Lyric Opera; Evelyn Meine, Chicago Symphony Orchestra; Jerry Mikelson, JAM Productions; Kenneth Miller, Mitchell Museum, Mt. Vernon; Muriel Paschen, Chicago City Ballet; Stephen Prokopoff, Krannert Center, Champaign; Madeline Rabb, Chicago Office of Fine Arts; Louis Sudler, Arts Patron, Chicago; Lucy Salenger, Illinois Film Office (Consultant); Keith Sanders, College of Fine Arts, Southern Illinois University; Nancy Stevenson, Illinois Humanities Council and Mario Aranda, Chicago World's Fair - 1992 Authority liaison.

As a first step, the committee has invited Robert Fitzpatrick, the director of the Los Angeles Olympic Arts Festival, to its initial meeting today, to learn about that successful cultural event.

"We can look to the 'winning' result of the Olympic Arts Festival as an example of how to successfully create a once-in-a-lifetime cultural experience," Kramer said. "We plan to develop a world-class arts festival to precede the 1992 World's Fair, and for the fair itself, we will encourage all exhibiting nations to bring their great cultures with them to Illinois."

"In addition," Kramer stated, "the committee plans to develop permanent residuals for the arts to both expand on and enhance the cultural community for years to come."

"Because of the impressive talents and resources of Illinois, we are confident that this fair will be in the proud tradition of Chicago's two previous fairs. It will be a new kind of fair for a new age," Mrs. Madigan concluded.

Catholic School Week celebrated locally

Area Catholic grade schools have announced a schedule of activities taking place Feb. 3 through 9, to celebrate Catholic Schools Week.

Each year, Catholic schools nationwide set aside a week to celebrate the accomplishments of their primary and secondary schools across the country.

This year's theme: "Catholic Schools: Sharing the Vision." Teaching Values, "underlines the commitment of Catholic schools to provide young Americans with an education that emphasizes academic and moral values, according to St. Mary's-St. Mark's school officials.

Daily themes and activities at the various schools include:

ST. MARK-ST. MARY GRADE SCHOOL

On Monday, the theme will be "We Value Our Family." Students will make "family name" posters which will be on display all week. Students will also send thank-you notes to their parents showing their appreciation.

The theme on Tuesday will be "We Value Our Education." Students will make an extra effort in their schoolwork this day. All papers that are done well will be posted in the hall. Students in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades will participate in a Scholastic Bowl Quiz at 10 a.m.

Wednesday's theme will be "We Value Our Community." Students will make Valentine cards for residents of nursing homes. A cleanup of the school grounds, classrooms and hallways will be done. A school carnival will be conducted from 5 to 9 p.m.

On Thursday, the theme will be "We Value Ourselves and Our Classmates." Students will construct images to show how they perceive themselves to be. Happy notes will be exchanged among the students, which will specify a positive attribute of the person.

"We Value Our Faith" will be the theme on Friday. During the day, the sixth grade will present the play "Rumpelstiltskin," for the first through sixth graders. Also Friday, the entire student body will participate in a special liturgy about the family. Parents of the students have been invited to attend. Students will be able to wear dress clothes this day.

SACRED HEART-ST. JOSEPH GRADE SCHOOL

On Monday, students will celebrate Color Day. Children may wear blue jeans and shirts that are either red or white (the school colors). Students will also have a balloon launch at 10:30 a.m.

Tuesday will be Badge Day. Students will wear handmade badges that feature the logo of Catholic School Week.

Value Day will be the theme on Wednesday. Students will post values that are important to them on bulletin boards throughout the school.

On Thursday, a special evening Mass will be conducted. Students are invited family members and the community to the 5:30 p.m. Mass. Afterwards, a pot luck dinner will be held.

Friday will be Grandparent and Senior Citizens Day. Grandparents of the students and senior citizen parishioners of Sacred Heart and St. Joseph School are invited to tour the school, play bingo and enjoy some refreshments.

ST. ELIZABETH SCHOOL

On Monday, an open house will be conducted from 7 to 8 p.m. in the classrooms. The open house will be followed by a social hour in the cafeteria.

On Thursday, students are encouraged to invite their parents and grandparents to have lunch with them in the cafeteria. The menu for the day will include tacos.

Friday, the students will participate in a special all-school liturgy Mass.

The school will also be conducting a Book Fair throughout the week. Students may purchase various types of books at a reduced price.

ST. MARGARET MARY SCHOOL

On Thursday, a special mass will be conducted for the community at 6 p.m. An open house of the classrooms will follow. Registration will be conducted for students entering Kindergarten next fall.

TOOLS, BOAT MOTOR GONE

Mechanic tools, refrigeration gauges and a sprayer were stolen from the parked van of Alan Milton, 2442 Lincoln Ave., last week. In an unrelated theft, a $350 trolling motor was taken from the boat of Richard Odom, 2637 E. 27th St.

WOMAN KICKS AUTO

When Lisa Ware of Collinsville halted her auto at a stop sign at East 23rd Street and Washington Avenue last week, a woman came up to the vehicle and kicked it twice, denting the side.

Cruse headquarters opening celebrated

The opening of the Von Dee Cruse for Mayor headquarters kicked off last week with a launch of more than 100 red, white and blue balloons.

According to a campaign spokesman, each balloon contained a slip of paper with the address and telephone number of the headquarters printed on it. The person in possession of the balloon that travels the farthest, will be awarded the Game of Granite City.

About 500 people attended the event, which featured the music of Dave Shepherd and Friends. Refreshments of cake, coffee, soda and candy were also served.

Among those attending the event were Henry Bienenick, chairman of the campaign; Mark Goldenberg, treasurer; and Karen Milton, headquarters chairman.

A special Youth For Better Government Committee was formed during the opening. The group hopes to interest children in local politics.

The headquarters is located in the Nameoki Village Shopping Center, next to the Household Financial Center.

GRAND OPENING. Von Dee Cruse (at right), a candidate for mayor in Granite City, releases a group of balloons to kick off the opening of his campaign headquarters at Nameoki Village Shopping Center. The event, which was attended by more than 500 persons, occurred last week.

PRESIDENT
Central Bank

Q: I travel a lot as part of my profession, and wouldn't be without my credit cards. But, I realize credit card fraud is on the rise. You've given good suggestions for credit card protection in the past. Have you any more suggestions?
A: There are a few we can certainly restate. For example, check every billing statement very carefully. If any unrecognizable charges turn up, as well as charges which seem out of line, write to the card issuer immediately, and maintain copies of all correspondence. Next, start some sort of filing system and retain all copies of credit card transactions so you can match up amounts with your monthly billings. Be careful about placing orders by phone using your credit cards. Deal only with firms known to you as reputable, and NEVER give your card number over the phone as "identification". Finally, make a list of all your cards along with their numbers and the addresses and phone numbers of card issuers, and keep it secure, but readily accessible in case of loss or theft.

Home financing session Tuesday

A special 90-minute presentation, designed to acquaint first-time homebuyers and persons presently renting with the various methods of purchasing and financing a home in today's market, is scheduled for 7 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 5, at the offices of Realty World Star, Inc., 3701D Nameoki Road (next to Granite Bowling Center).

Scott Martin, manager of sales and marketing for Germania Federal Savings and Loan, will be the featured speaker for the program. A highlight of the meeting will be the latest available information on how and where home purchasers may qualify and register for 10.75% low-interest, fixed-rate, 30-year loans from the Illinois Housing Development Agency's $130 million home loan program. Feb. 23 is the deadline for applying for these funds.

Germania Federal will be handling the IHDA loans through their local offices. Additional subjects discussed will be: (1) Down payment and closing costs; (2) What price home can you afford? (3) What to expect in monthly payments; (4) What are the employment and credit requirements to qualify for a loan? (5) Where and what is the best way to finance a home?

The Homebuyers Meeting is free and open to the general public. Reservations are requested and may be made by calling Realty World Star at 876-0024.

Wayne Crites to address group

Nationally-known family farm advocate Wayne Crites will be speaking at a public "Farm Survival Meeting," Thursday, Feb. 7, hosted by Bond County American Agriculture Movement. Sharing the platform with Wayne will be David Senter, a national director of American Agriculture. The meeting will begin at Greenville College in Greenville.

Admission at the door will be $3. Pie and coffee will be served. Anyone interested in the survival of the Family Farm are urged to attend, a spokesman said.

Pedestrian hurt at E. 23rd-Washington

Donald E. Cook, 50, of 2318 Iowa St., sustained an injury when hit by the bumper of an auto at 6:10 p.m. Saturday at Washington Avenue at East 23rd Street. He went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment of a contusion to his right knee and a laceration to a finger.

Cook was walking across Washington Avenue from the west to the east side when he was struck by a vehicle. He was knocked to the ground, a spokesman said.

Lillian H. Baumeyer, 77, of 2111 Bryan Ave., driver of the vehicle, believed the man had fallen on some ice on the roadway when she saw him get up, she told police. She was charged with failure to yield to a pedestrian at an intersection and is to appear for a hearing March 8.

Act fast on the infrastructure

Illinois legislators and others are wise in moving fast to develop infrastructure plans. There is a good chance this state can become the first of the 50 to qualify to receive funding under a bill now pending in Congress.

What is infrastructure? It is the network of streets, drains, public buildings and other structures and installations that form the basis for community life.

It has become somewhat of a fad word, but the subject is highly important. With less money being devoted to maintenance—and cutbacks ordered in a variety of subsidies—roads, sewers, bridges and buildings are deteriorating. If even more costly replacements are to be avoided, refurbishing and renovation efforts are essential.

One of the bills before the General Assembly would create a revolving loan fund. Illinois could receive up to $151 million annually under the proposal, according to House Speaker Michael J. Madigan.

He comments, "For the past three years, we have been working systematically to address all phases of infrastructure problems in this state because aging sewer and water lines, streets and overpasses have become a major deterrent to the economic redevelopment of Illinois.

"We supported new funding for state and local highway construction, revamped regional authorities, and created the Illinois Development Finance Authority (IDFA) and an infrastructure bond bank program."

Under the proposed National Infrastructure Act, in states that qualify, local governments could obtain low-interest 20-year loans to supplement bond funds or grants. Along with the $151 million a year from the proposed allocation formula, the IDFA would be able to use other state funds for loans.

Both state and national studies show that the next major task facing Illinois is an acceleration of construction, repair and replacement of basic services. Quad-Cityans, well aware that their region's infrastructure can decay and crumble, are hopeful that Springfield and Washington officials will continue to act promptly this year.

Tell how to cook a dead bird

At a time when the passion for gourmet cookery has become a public mania, when the death of a pioneering chef is front-page news and "food news" sections sprout like mushrooms from the daily newspapers, it's not surprising that children are becoming cooking-conscious at a very early age. The results of their culinary efforts, however, are—how to put it?—unconventional.

Try at your own risk the recipes of some precocious 4- and 5-year-olds, children of Oberlin College faculty members, compiled in a new cookbook and taught by their teachers at the First Church of Oberlin nursery school.

There's chicken, "nouvelle" Oberlin style, for instance, which calls for "a bird, spices, pan, plate" to prepare. "Mom sets the bird in the oven and it turns into a regular dead chicken (the bird's already dead). Cook it at 60 degrees outside the house and two degrees in the oven for about 10 or nine minutes."

Ready for dessert? How about this strawberry cake, made from "frosting—a whole gallon, bacon—a whole bunch, and eggs—4" (but apparently no strawberries). "My mom breaks the eggs and puts them on top of the cake. She puts the bacon on top with the other stuff. Then she puts the frosting on; she smashes it with a knife. Then she puts more eggs on. She bakes it at my grandmother's in the oven, hot, for 10 hours."

James Beard, you can rest easy in chef's heaven. These kids may be maestros in the kitchen of the imagination, but they're no competition in front of a stove—not for another 10 or nine years, at least.

Well 'successful' in lowering water table in Dobrey Slough

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

U.S. Army Corps of Engineers officials say a well tested in the Dobrey Slough area was successful in lowering the high underground water table in the area.

"It does look like pumping in that area is a viable solution," Corps Slough Manager Dan Marshall. He added that the well was able to "draw down" the water level by 700 gallons per minute, resulting in a drop of one foot at one monitoring point.

THE WELL was tested Jan. 15 and 16 as a possible addition to a pumping system designed to alleviate flooding due to a high underground water table in the area, Marshall explained. The well was used to pull underground water into the Dobrey Slough and channel it to a pump station located at the end of the slough near Pontoon Road. That pump station automatically accump rises the water level in the slough rises, pulling water into pipes leading to the Nameoki ditch. From there, the water empties into Horseshoe Lake.

Corps officials monitored the well's operations through the use of piezometers, which measure the level of underground water.

Piezometers were placed in various locations in the slough.

Marshall says the results of the test indicate that a well system could be effective in the pumping station in Dobrey Slough. Marshall called the system "a definite means of lowering the groundwater."

THERE STILL ARE problems, he added. Pumping is still a problem in the area of Amos Avenue and North Street near Pontoon Road.

Marshall says his report on the use of pumps in the Dobrey Slough must be completed by April 1987, while a definite plan and specifications for reducing flooding in the area may be completed in the 1990s.

Asked why the well and pumping systems weren't studied before, Marshall explained that most of the money the Corps has spent on the study to this point has gone toward developing a "computer" model to determine the best way to use pumps in the slough, toward assessing water quality and toward determining the damage caused by flooding in the area.

A CORPS STUDY has shown that flooding has resulted in many millions of dollars in damages from flooded basements, broken sewer lines and sinking houses.

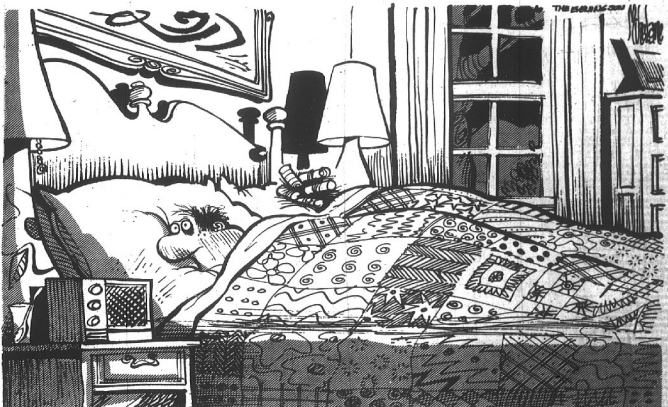

Marshall could not estimate the cost of the study and construction of a drainage system to alleviate the flooding. Considerations such as the magnitude of the problem and the type of system needed to solve the problem will determine the cost of the project.

"Up to this point, we're thinking about pumping," he continued, "but what will we do with the water that we pump out?"

ALTHOUGH CORPS officials have been considering routing the water to the Mississippi River, Marshall said another alternative may prove to be more beneficial to water users.

"We might be able to work out in the plan a means of piping the water to industry or some other water user. There is some problem with water quality. At some places, we've found it to be high in iron and manganese content," Marshall explained, adding that there may be some places where the water does not have a high element content.

Marshall is urging industry officials or other water users to contact the Corps if they would be interested in using water pumped from the slough so that the use of the water can be included in the plan to reduce flooding in the area.

St. Louis Football Cardinals

Press-Record readers were asked how they feel about the possibility of the football Cardinals moving to Phoenix. Talk of a move for the team has dominated the sports news in recent weeks.

Wayne Johnson, Granite City

"I think it would be bad if the team left. I would really be disappointed. St. Louis needs the Cardinals because they are a big part of what St. Louis is."

Jeff Schroeder, Granite City worker

"I'd hate to see the Cardinals move. A lot of football fans would be upset. But Bidwell (owner of the team) says he needs 20,000 more seats than Busch Stadium has, so I think there's a good possibility the move may occur."

Faul Stratton, Granite City

"I believe the Cardinals should stay in St. Louis. I think they owe the city that much since we've done everything in our power to promote them."

Kim Warfield, Granite City

"I think the Cardinals are part of the St. Louis tradition and I'd like to see them stay. I also think that every major city should have a football team."

Defends Chouteau Citizens' Club stance

To the Editor:

As third term president of the Chouteau Citizens' Club I believe I can respond in a responsible and knowledgeable manner to Mr. Walter Sparks' letter of Jan. 28.

The Chouteau Citizens' Club is a not-for-profit club chartered by the state of Illinois, organized to work toward the betterment of the community. It is open to anyone that resides within Chouteau Township.

Political preference is not taken into consideration when the club is actively seeking new members.

The Chouteau Citizens' Club has indeed already selected a slate of candidates to endorse for township elections. The club endorsed the United for Progress group, which is headed by Morris Miles for supervisor, as this group was considered to contain the best candidates for the positions.

This group includes Patricia Polley, incumbent township clerk, running for that same position, and Josephine Burgener, also an incumbent running for township trustee. The latter two persons mentioned ran on Mr. Sparks' ticket last election. Now they are running with a new group, proudly endorsed by Chouteau Citizens' Club.

Do we need the People's Court judge?

To the Editor:

This letter is not to be construed, whatever, as to the guilt or innocence of the former Madison County supervisor of assessments and others. I believe that the guilty should be punished and the innocent given a clean slate and an apology.

I admit that what I do know about the case, I have read in the papers, both local and St. Louis. I also admit, I do not know what legal manipulating is going on behind the scenes, but there is one work I can not digest. Try as I may, there is no rhyme or reason. That word is "prejudice." Webster defines prejudice in part, "To injure or damage by some judgment or action—to hurt—to impair—etc."

A former state's attorney wants an out-of-the-county, get that, an out-of-the-county judge to sort out what he calls "a... damn mess." Are you thinking what I am thinking? That it seems strange that in all of Madison County there is not one prosecutor, nor one judge, who could do his part to guarantee a fair trial? Lordy mercy, I hope not.

Well, I guess this is the end of my letter. Should I have written it? I really do not know, maybe yes, maybe no. I had something to say, so I said it.

Have you ever watched the People's Court and Judge Joseph Warner on television? Judge Warner does not seem to have a problem with the word "prejudice." Maybe, just maybe, do you think he might come to (Madison County)? No? I guess not. Well, it was just a thought.

Supports legislation to save young lives

To the Editor:

You want to do something specific to change our laws that allow newborn babies to die at the hands of parents and doctors, who decide they do not deserve to live? There is a proposal called "Baby Doe Regulations" which is being considered right now, which would penalize any institution that would withhold food, water or needed treatment to save the life of a newborn baby.

Government funds would be withheld to all such hospitals and institutions who fail to do everything necessary to save these little lives.

This proposal is being projected for our approval or disapproval right now. Feb. 8 is the deadline to get your letters to the following address in order to vote in favor of this regulation. It is called the "Baby Doe Regulation."

It is important to mention in your letter that quality of life should not determine if a baby's life should be spared. This is the reason most people support abortion and infanticide (allowing newborn babies to die). Under these conditions many of our famous authors, doctors, and leaders in many walks of life would have been left to die. Helen Keller, Beethoven, Fannie Crosby, to name only a few.

Your letters should be addressed to: National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect, U.S. Children's Bureau, Department of Health and Human Services, Post Office Box 1182, Washington, D.C. 20013.

You also may send a Mailgram by calling Western Union at this toll-free number, 1-800-325-6000, operator 66. Your message of 30 words or less would cost $4.95.

Defends cable service here

To the Editor, and the Granite City Council:

I would like to know, why such an attack on cable TV?

We have more on our basic cable for $8 a month than practically any place I know. I have children in Florida, Texas and Southern Illinois. They pay extra for ESPN, USA, Nashville, Chicago and Atlanta, which is all included in our basic. One in Illinois pays $8 a month and still doesn't have these five stations. I noticed you don't have a tax on cable, is that your problem?

As for interference, every cable user has it from coast to coast. When there is a disturbance in Atlanta, it comes on through to us. Think twice before you start messing it up. Concentrate on cleaning Granite up and beautify it. Bring in some new business, not just liquor stores and pizza parlors.

Arlington Heights Civic Association elects 1985 officers

The Arlington Heights Civic Association elected 1985 officers during its January meeting. New officers for 1985 are President Marlene Miller, Vice President Faye Mercer, Secretary Louise Ware, Treasurer Lou Graham and Trustees Louis Gombos, John Perdue, Virgil Ware and Leonard Hilla.

The January meeting was chaired by Louise Ware in the absence of retiring President Jan Langenstein. Reports were given by respective chairmen on projects still pending, including lighting, fire districts, water drainage and street resurfacing.

Jerry Lilley, chairman of the board of trustees for the Arlington Water District, reported on the recent accomplishments in the district. He expects the next few meetings of the association will involve instructions and finalization of plans for the water district.

Wolf co-sponsors legislation to help relieve groundwater problems

State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) announced Friday that he will co-sponsor a major infrastructure loan plan which could help alleviate chronic water problems in the 11th District.

The Infrastructure Revolving Loan Fund, coupled with pending federal legislation, would provide up to $151 million annually to upgrade local sewers, water systems and bridges throughout the state.

"This proposal is especially critical to the 11th District, which has been plagued with severe water problems for many years," Wolf said. "The plan would dramatically benefit our area and would offset the costly expense of repairing and replacing deteriorating clay pipes with plastic lines."

"Currently, we are faced with a dozen sewer lines in dire need of repair and which will cost anywhere from $50,000 to $100,000 each," he added. "We've already expended some $2 million in sewer repairs alone, but due to the high water table, this is a continuing dilemma for us."

Under the plan, the Illinois Development Finance Authority would be authorized to receive and distribute funds provided by the National Infrastructure Fund. Low interest, 20-year loans would be available to local governments to supplement bond funds or state and federal grants.

Wolf noted that 20 percent of the loans would be earmarked for financially depressed communities in the state.

ANNOUNCING PLAN to finance upgrading of sewers, water systems and bridges throughout the state is State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City). Standing behind him is State Senator Greg Zito (D-Melrose Park). Senate sponsor of the measure.

"The state's crumbling infrastructure demands a comprehensive plan of this caliber if we hope to provide a healthy environment for economic growth," Wolf continued. "Well maintained sewers, bridges and roads are vital to both corporate and residential expansion."

Joining Wolf in the legislative effort are House Speaker Michael J. Madigan, Representative Alfred G. Ronan (D-Chicago) and Senator Greg Zito (D-Melrose Park).

Open house scheduled at SEMC Surgette unit Sunday

St. Elizabeth Medical Center officials are inviting the public to an open house of SEMC's Surgette unit from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 10.

Surgette is a one-day care unit for minor surgeries in which the patient needs to be put to sleep under a general anesthesia, but patients in the unit do not require overnight hospitalization.

SEMC officials say the open house will give visitors a chance to view the Surgette facility. They will see demonstrations of the techniques used in the unit. Medical center professionals will be on hand to conduct tests and give out information. Visitors can learn methods of evaluating their own health and will be able to have their health appraised by a computer. The service is free of charge.

Officials urge participants to come to the main lobby on the ground floor of SEMC where they will proceed to the first floor of the Binney Wing, where the Surgette unit is located.

Visitors will be entitled to a free colon cancer test. They will be given a kit that allows them to test themselves for colon cancer. Information and instructions for performing the test also will be provided. After performing the test, visitors are advised to bring their kits back to SEMC, and the laboratory will analyze the tests at no charge.

A free serum-cholesterol test also will be offered. Interested visitors will receive a ticket which will entitle them to have the procedure performed at SEMC at a later date, free of charge.

In addition, visitors may have their blood pressures checked. They also may have a computerized health risk appraisal performed. SEMC officials say that involves having a computerized survey performed on each individual's lifestyle. The survey will identify the 10 leading causes of death for a person of each individual's age, race and sex. It will not identify situations that increase health risks, but it will also recommend steps to reduce the risks.

Among the demonstrations is a laser demonstration, which will be given at 1:30 and 3 p.m. Breast self-examination techniques, breast prosthesis and Surgette procedures will be demonstrated.

Visitors will be provided with information about lung cancer, self-examination for testicular cancer, SEMC's Cardiac Rehab program and nutrition. They also will be able to view a videotape about Surgette.

Finally, the open house will feature balloons and refreshments. SEMC surgical scrub shirts will be given to the first 200 visitors. All SEMC parking lots will be open Sunday for free visitor parking.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Parents and teachers frequently ask whether teachers can use corporal punishment in a given situation. In addition, educators have asked the Courts to determine what constitutes excessive corporal punishment. In one recent case in Illinois, the Court decided whether punitive damages should be allowed in a case where a teacher uses excessive corporal punishment.

The laws of the State of Illinois expressly give teachers authority to maintain discipline in the classroom for the safety and supervision of the students. In 1974 the Illinois Supreme Court decided that a teacher's right to discipline students will be held to the same test of reasonableness which is applied to parents in disciplining their own children. If a teacher does bring a Court action against a teacher for administering corporal punishment, the burden is upon the student to prove willful and wanton misconduct on the part of the educator. Willful and wanton conduct has been defined by the Courts as an intentional act or an act which exhibits a reckless disregard for the safety of others.

If a teacher does administer excessive corporal punishment, the next logical question is whether the student can recover punitive damages in addition to compensatory damages. If the student were only allowed to recover compensatory damages, this would only compensate the injured party for the injury sustained, and nothing more. If punitive damages were denied in a case such as this, this would lessen the potential recovery by the student.

In a recent case, an elementary student, by his mother, filed suit against a teacher who allegedly administered excessive corporal punishment. The student filed suit against the teacher, the principal, the elementary school, and the Board of Education of the school district. In this case, the student asked for compensatory damages as well as punitive damages. The Trial Court threw out the Plaintiff's claim for punitive damages, and the case was taken up on appeal.

In deciding whether punitive damages would be allowed, the Appellate Court noted that it was generally recognized that punitive damages were awarded to punish an offender and to deter other similar misconduct. The Appellate Court felt that punitive damages should not be allowed in a case such as this. The Court felt that given the important role of education in our society, it was not desirable to make potential liability for punitive damages a major concern in a teacher's mind when he was called upon to maintain discipline in the classroom.

JEMA GONZALES

Local student advances to oratorical contest

Jema Gonzales will represent Granite City High School Tuesday, Feb. 5, at the High School Oratorical Contest Scholarship at the 22nd District American Legion at Cahokia High School. Miss Gonzales is being sponsored by American Legion Post 113 and advanced to the district competition after winning the Oratorical Contest Semifinals at Granite City High School.

The winner of the district competition will advance to the American Legion Fifth Division Oratorical Contest, and then to the state contest.

Miss Gonzales' parents, Major General Olando and Maye Gonzales of the Army Depot, will accompany her to the 22nd district contest, as will Ron Pennell, speech coach at Granite City High School.

Families needed for AISE students

Host families are needed for high school foreign-exchange students, aged 15 to 18, who have been selected to attend high schools in Illinois for the 1985-1986 school year in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

Janina Kuszelewski, a 16-year-old girl from Sweden, is interested in photography, indoor gardening, riding, swimming and tennis. She likes to sing and has been playing the piano for eight years. She has studied English for six years and would like to learn about America's people and culture.

Benedikte Ellissen, a 16-year-old girl from Norway, enjoys playing piano. She has been playing for five years. She also likes drawing, china-painting, skiing and jogging. She has seven years of English study and would like to learn more about America, the people and their culture. She wants to make new friends here.

Janina, Benedikte and other young people like them from several countries are in need of families to provide meals, lodging and guidance to them from mid-August 1985 until June 1986, according to Alan Steffen. These students have many interests, from sports to politics to music and art, and have expressed an interest in learning about the United States and its people. They have been screened by their school representatives in their native countries, have their own spending money and medical insurance.

"AISE is a non-profit exchange visitor program participating in the President's International Youth Exchange Initiative. "... we cannot hope that other nations will appreciate our country unless more of these future leaders have had the same chance to feel the warmth of the American family, the vitality of an American community, the diversity of our educational system."

Families interested in being AISE families for these students should contact AISE immediately by calling Alan Steffen at 1-388-4615 or 1-800-SIBLING.

Silver Dollar City slates interviews for seasonal jobs

As Silver Dollar City prepares for the introduction of a new $2 million attraction, the "Lost River of the Ozarks" ride, plans for the season's job interviews have been announced by Personnel Manager Doug Barcomb.

Appointments are now being by phone for the hiring interviews which will take place on two Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, Feb. 22, 23 and March 1, 2, 3.

Barcomb stated that SDC anticipates a peak-season employing nearly 1,000 persons. "Everyone who's ever visited the city has an idea of what a broad range of occupations we offer for folks of just about all ages. And the biggest single qualification is that the employee possess an exceptionally friendly attitude with a boundless sort of enthusiasm for meeting new people and helping them enjoy themselves while visiting the Ozarks," he said.

Positions are in two categories — six-month jobs, beginning with Young Christians' Days in late April and continuing through the entire season, and three-month jobs, generally covering the period of Memorial Day through Labor Day.

The SDC entertainment division will have specialized needs for singers, dancers and musical groups.

Appointments for interviews are required, minimizing the waiting time for those applying and making the best use of time for the year-around Silver Dollar Citizens who will conduct the interviews. The personnel department may be reached Mondays through Fridays, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., at 1-417-338-8122.

Stress, health are workshop topics

Maintaining a healthier lifestyle is the theme of a two-session workshop entitled "Managing Stress and Your Health" sponsored by Country Companies in cooperation with the Madison County Farm Bureau Women's Committee.

Country Companies, a group of insurance and investment service companies, is affiliated with the Illinois Farm Bureau. Country Companies conducts 15 safety and health programs annually to more than 100,000 people.

The workshop is scheduled for March 5 and 6 at the Madison County Farm Bureau, 900 Hillsboro Avenue, Edwardsville.

Dave Hawthorne, of the Country Companies public relations department, will be the facilitator for the workshop. Hawthorne is one of four facilitators who are conducting the workshop. The program will begin at 9 a.m. and conclude at noon each day.

Topics to be covered will include weight control, effects of hypertension on health, effects of smoking, alcohol and drugs on health; good nutrition, and stress management.

A $4 fee per attendee (or $7 per couple) will be charged to participants to cover the costs of materials used in conducting the workshop. The program will begin at 9 a.m. and conclude at noon each day.

Attendees should attend both sessions and should be Farm Bureau members. To make reservations for the workshop or to obtain further information, interested persons may contact Kay Losch, chairman of the women's committee, at 1-254-8136 or the Farm Bureau office, 1-656-5191.

College degree can be the key to officer training

Many college graduates are discovering that their degree may be the key to a rewarding career as an officer in the U.S. Army.

"If the Army were to be compared to a corporation, its officers would be the executives. Through Officer Candidate School (OCS), qualified young men and women develop organizational skills and learn how to train and motivate people. They face many of the challenges that civilian executives face, and much more," a spokesman said.

A career as an Army officer begins with a 22-week training program which prepares officers to handle mental and physical challenges. Candidates spend eight weeks in Initial Entry Training, where they develop their minds and bodies. Field training, leadership training, organization and management workshops help to prepare candidates for life as an officer. Upon satisfactory completion of the program, graduates are commissioned as second lieutenants and are scheduled to attend their respective officer basic course.

Army officers are eligible for a wide range of benefits, including free medical and dental care; 30 days paid vacation a year; membership in military officers clubs and tuition assistance for post-graduate study.

According to Lt. David Nichols, Army recruiter at the U.S. Army Recruiting Battalion headquarters in St. Louis, "OCS is a time you will cherish. You will be challenged to the limit. Your career as an officer is an extension of OCS, because you will continue to be challenged daily to grow as a person and a leader."

Applicants for OCS must be U.S. citizens. They also must be college graduates and between the ages of 19 and 29 (not having passed their 29th birthday by the time of their enlistment). College seniors who apply early and pass all entrance exams can have their enrollment in OCS guaranteed in writing.

"Being an Army officer is a job with tremendous responsibility," Lt. Nichols said. "The Army trains its officers to act and react, to take any situation and improve the end result."

CASH COUPONS GONE

Harold Wagner

Harold G. Wagner, 61, of 2132 Cottage Ave., died Friday morning, Feb. 1, 1985, at DePaul Hospital in St. Louis County. He had been ill since Dec. 28 and was hospitalized the same length of time.

Mr. Wagner retired three years ago as claims manager at Granite City Steel, where he was employed 31 years. He was a member of the Granite City Steel Management Club.

He was a World War II veteran, having served in the U. S. Army, and he was a member of St. John United Church of Christ.

Mr. Wagner was born July 14, 1923, in Gretna, La., where he resided until coming to Granite City, 34 years ago.

Among the survivors are his wife, Mrs. Karmyn (Bauer) Wagner; two sons, Keith and Greg Wagner, both of Granite City; a brother, Henry G. Wagner Jr., of Gretna, La., and two sisters, Mrs. Leah Ruiz and Mrs. Dolly Bozelle, both of Gretna.

A daughter, Pamela Wagner, and a sister, Mrs. Robert (Beale) Panlasig, preceded him in death.

Services were at 11 a.m. today, Feb. 4, at St. John United Church of Christ, 2801 Madison Ave., with the Rev. Alan Reiter officiating. Burial was in St. John Cemetery, 2901 Nameoki Road. Visitation was Sunday at Randall A. Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave. The family requests memorials to St. John United Church of Christ.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ann Hadley, 64, of 3900 Stearns Ave., will be held at 12:15 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 30, 1985, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Ill for 10 years she was hospitalized for one month.

Mrs. Hadley was born in St. Louis, and moved here 50 years ago. She was a member of the Gospel Chapel General Baptist Church.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Murphy C. Hadley, in 1961, and by two sons, Dale and James Hadley.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Ann Geppert, Millstadt, Ill.; Mrs. Kenneth (Judy) Alberry, Madison; Mrs. Karen Marli, Rockford, Ill.; and Mrs. Steven (Rhonda) Zinn, Hatfield, Pa.; two sons, Ray C. Hadley of Los Angeles, Calif., Paul Hadley of Houston, Texas; two sisters, Mrs. Jim (Pauline) Lindsey, Jennings, Mo., and Mrs. Mary Hooper, Granite City; a brother, Leo Pratt of Cahokia, 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Burial was in Valley View Cemetery, Edwardsville.

Services conducted for Mrs. Ethel V. Bruner

The Rev. James Donahue conducted funeral services at 1 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 31, at Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave., for Mrs. Ethel V. (Peters) Bruner of 2258 Iowa St.

She died at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 11:47 p.m. Monday, Jan. 28, 1985, where she was a patient six days.

Mrs. Bruner was born in Florence, Ill., and lived here for 16 years. Her husband, George W. Bruner, died in 1965.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. William (Mildred) Casquin, Granite City; a son, George E. Bruner of Caseyville; one brother, Robert Peters, Flora; six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville.

Services conducted for father of Madison man

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Carl McNeal at the Millidgeville (Tenn.) United Methodist Church for Louis Everett McCoy, 89, father of Louis E. McCoy Jr., of Madison.

Mr. McCoy was a retired farmer and gardener. He died on Jan. 16, 1985, at the Belleville Nursing Home in Belleville.

Mr. McCoy was born April 15, 1895, in Chester County, Tenn.

Other survivors include three grandchildren, five great-grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Vera H. Delaney of Memphis, Tenn.

The Shackelford Funeral Home in Savannah, Tenn., was in charge of the arrangements. Burial was in Millidgeville Cemetery.

residential, commercial and industrial water customers (an amount set by the ICC), or by some combination of this and a change in the general water service rate."

NOT A PENNY of net additional funds will be derived by the water company, Greaves said. Water bills will go up in July in many areas to offset newly lost hydrant contributions, and basic water rates may then be adjusted in conjunction with the ruling on the next future general rate increase request.

Inaction probably will be selected by many of the governments, the ICC believes.

But an incentive for them to act is the issue of losing or retaining individual tax benefits, Greaves has emphasized.

"UNDER THE PRESENT system," he said, "municipalities which pay a charge for public fire protection pass that charge on to their residents in the form of taxes."

"People who itemize deductions on their federal income tax returns are permitted to deduct the amount of state and local taxes they have paid."

"No such deduction, however, will be available if this amount is paid as part of the individual customer's water bill," rather than through taxes.

A LISTING of the 752 fire hydrants here shows $40 in Granite City, 103 in Madison, 67 in Venice, 24 in the Long Lake fire district, six in Eagle Park, five in Venice Township, four in the Tri-City Port District and three in Cleveland-East Madison.

Moreover, IAW serves 63,000 customers and provides water for 3,129 fire hydrants.

Water also is provided by IAW to the Mitchell water district under a contract. Mitchell fire district hydrants are served by the Mitchell water system.

GRAVES NOTED that the amount of a fire hydrant surcharge may vary in each of the 28 districts where water is provided by IAW.

After the water firm has notified the ICC which districts have decided on various payment plans, the state commission will decide the kind of surcharge justified for each community.

Although the surcharge is likely to go into effect immediately on July 1, the next general water rate alteration would follow by nearly a year on the heels of a new ICC ruling. The ICC is empowered to approve, amend or reject such requests.

FIRE SERVICE COSTS may appear to be high but reflect the fact that bigger lines are required—6-, 8- or 10-inch mains instead of the 2- or 4-inch pipes that would be adequate for homes, Greaves said.

Also, the network of pipes must be in place at all times, regardless of whether it is needed often or only rarely to respond to a fire.

IF CUSTOMERS were to pay fully for their hydrants, through bigger payments by cities and districts to IAW, general water bills would be lowered accordingly by the state, Greaves asserted.

Those districts electing not to pay for hydrants may then be able to lower their taxes or to expand the funds on hand for equipment, personnel or other obligations, legislators have indicated.

The question of whether or not hydrants should be subsidized is no longer debatable, as Greaves sees it. The General Assembly has decided that the subsidy must end, and it is up to water suppliers and taxing bodies to implement the new law.

ALTHOUGH WATER bills already contain the statement that a portion of this bill is attributable to public fire protection service provided to municipalities or fire protection districts, "the topic will take on new urgency," he said, when surcharges also are billed.

In the meantime, IAW is busy determining the exact number of water customers in each city or district.

This is one of the facts that the ICC will take into account (along with hydrant payments or non-payments) in formulating surcharge rates, a spokesman said.

Mehelic withdraws

employees who were laid off following a grand jury probe that returned indictments against Mehelic. The employees, who were called upon to testify, claimed that Mehelic laid them off in retaliation.

Mehelic later was convicted of one count of official misconduct and ousted from his office.

MRS. MEHELIC briefly commented to reporters on the board's decision, "I just feel like if so many people want me to run, I should run."

Prior to the board's decision, the attorney representing Mrs. Mehelic, H. Carl Runge Jr., asked the board to dismiss the objections because Trustee Helen Hawkins, who was originally chosen to serve on the board, withdrew from the board because of her candidacy for township supervisor in the April elections.

"Helen had an obligation to serve," Runge commented. "The only way you can't serve is if you're running for the office of (highway commissioner). No one respected Mrs. Hawkins, but she has violated the terms of her office."

SLATE COUNTERED, "There's no way to require her to be here...there's no way we could get her to participate in the proceedings," Briggs issued a statement to reporters indicating the board members' reluctance to serve on the board, "Might I state on behalf of this board," he stated, "that none of us was desirous to serve; however, the statutes state that we are the electoral board for Namekiki Township and we feel that it is our obligated duty to serve."

Briggs noted that Mrs. Hawkins' name was drawn to serve on the board, but that she had declined. "I would like to point out that all the members of this board are candidates running on a slate that includes a highway commissioner," he noted, "but we do not want to shirk our duties that we were elected to do no matter how much we dislike it."

FOLLOWING MRS. HAWKINS' withdrawal, Garcia's name was drawn and he agreed to serve on the board.

Mrs. Mehelic now faces W. Lee Adams, who is the current highway commissioner, and Charles Reed in the April race for highway commissioner.

Funeral rites for Frank Gates, 82, retired farmer

Funeral services were conducted at a Pleasant Hill funeral home Friday afternoon, Feb. 3, for Frank L. Gates, 82, Pleasant Hill, who died Wednesday, Jan. 30, 1985, in the Illinois Community Hospital, Pittsfield. Burial was at Crescent Heights Cemetery, Pleasant Hill.

The retired farmer and carpenter was preceded in death by his wife, Anna.

He leaves three daughters, a son, one sister, one brother, Joseph Gates of Granite City, and grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

developed, Skubish reported a shortage of nursing home beds.

He commented that sale of Lake for such a purpose might yield a large sum to aid school finances.

President Kelly Hogan said earlier efforts to obtain substantial bids on Lake proved unsuccessful. Board Member Thomas Mofsky said the board must focus on education rather than other community needs.

ANOTHER CITY COUNCIL member, Sharon Perjak of the 4th Ward, stressed the need for a local educational center, as did Shirley Stoll of the Granite City District Nine faculty.

Mrs. Stoll said the program fits well with current education reform proposals. She described one of her students who has become proud of herself through attainments at the ETC, and said, "Board members can be proud of themselves if they bring this program to Granite City."

ETC teachers reviewed operation of the center in detail after Balen graduated slide photographs of the two present centers in East Alton and Canteen, the latter once a dirt-filled Cahokia Mounds archaeological site.

SOME MISTAKES were made in initial classes at the former Stallings School due to the newness of the project six years ago, Balen said, adding that the existing approach, four accomplishments and conduct levels, is working well.

Seventy percent succeed in mastering the curriculum and many are able to resume regular schooling, it was related.

Canteen School lacks a gymnasium, is difficult to heat properly, and has insufficient room for the degree to which separation of pupils is advisable. Extra space enables the children to concentrate more fully on their studies, the audience was told.

"THE 5-1 RATIO of students to staff assigns ETC of close supervision," Balen said. "Students never are left unsupervised. They attend from 9 to 2:30 each weekday and are bused to and from the school and their homes."

Outside activities such as basketball and baseball are supervised by the recreational therapist and other staff members. The children also are supervised during the lunch period and are not allowed to leave the campus.

There is one pupil 8-years-old. One is 9, one is 10, four are 11, two are 12, four are 13, four are 14, five are 15, four are 16, three are 17 and two are 18-years-old.

"SALE OF LAKE was decided last week when we voted 4-3 to sell it but two-thirds was needed," David Partney of the school board commented during the meeting.

"It's a dead issue," he said, adding that the ETC children pose no problem for others, including Anchorage area senior citizens. Skubish urged increased attention by all to the needs and concerns of elderly persons.

School board members at their Jan. 21 meeting said leasing of Lake would help finance providing heat in the school, adding to the building's useful life.

Material made available to those at the hearing related that the special school for behaviorally disordered students aged 8-21 was established in the fall of 1979.

The two coed day programs and a boys' residential program are administered by the Madison County educational service region and the Community Counseling Center of Alton.

AN ADVISORY BOARD of directors, consisting of representatives of mental health centers, special education cooperatives, superintendents, special education directors, vocational rehabilitation services, the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services and the Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities.

The report that was distributed explained, "All students served at the ETC are referred through the special education director of a school district."

DUE TO THEIR handicapping conditions, they can no longer be appropriately served in the regular classrooms.

"They need a more sophisticated approach to provide them with the required 'free and appropriate education.'"

A ED (behaviorally disordered) student is a person who displays one or a combination of these characteristics:

1. DIFFICULTY WITH verbal communication.

2. Purposeless or repetitive behavior. Includes compulsive behavior, stereotype behavior or persistent inability to change tasks when directed.

3. Short attention span. May be typified by often failing to finish tasks, appearing not to listen, easily distracted, difficulty concentrating on tasks requiring sustained attention, or difficulty persisting in a play activity.

4. OVERACTIVE behavior. Difficultly staying seated, fidgeting excessively, running about or climbing on things, being "on the go." The parents may report that the child moves about excessively during sleep.

5. Impulsive behavior. Includes often acting before thinking, shifting excessively from one activity to another, having difficulty organizing, needing a lot of supervision, distracting other children by clowning, playing or making noises in the class, interrupting or frequently talking out in class, or having difficulty waiting turns.

6. Threatening behavior. Aggression, statements or gestures dangerous to people, including marking on personal or school materials as well as self-mutilation.

7. UNSUCCESSFUL interpersonal relationships. Not relating to teachers or peers on an age appropriate level, manipulation, excessively complying or stubbornly refusing to participate in class or school activities, or avoiding making decisions.

8. Depressed and/or withdrawn behavior. Typified by sad expression, crying, poor eye contact, resting or sleeping in class, lack of attention for long periods of time, or neglect of personal appearance.

9. Persistent over anxiety, fidgeting, fearful expression, tremor, or stating "I can't do it."

10. FREQUENT ABSENCE from school or classroom activities. Physical complaints, anxiety, fear, or overt refusal.

11. Compulsive behavior, grossly out of proportion to the social situation. Includes physical and emotional outbursts of anger, sadness, fear, anxiety, elation or depression.

12. Socially inappropriate behavior. Includes cheating or inappropriate use of chemicals.

Monday SPORTS*Warrior Basketball*Cagers get 8th straight win; crush CrusadersBy ELDON WARFIELD
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Warrior train kept rolling along Friday night as Coach Don Deterding's basketball team captured its eighth consecutive win by defeating the Belleville Althoff Crusaders 68-54 in a non-conference match-up. The win runs their record to 15-5 on the season.

The contest against Althoff was much more important than its face value seemed, being a meaningless non-conference game in the midst of an exciting Southwestern Conference season for Granite City fans.

Althoff, now 3-15 on the season, could have caught the Warriors looking ahead to the following weekend when Granite faces two tough conference foes. The Warriors responded, but not until they found out the Crusaders had come to play.

IT LOOKED as if Granite would have an easy time as they rattled off eight straight points after Althoff scored first to take an early 8-2 lead. Then the Crusaders regrouped with a timeout and battled back to within two, 14-12 at the end of the first quarter.

Jeff Gray hit for 10 points in the second quarter to pace the Warriors, but it wasn't until sophomore guard Tim Hogan entered that the game started to take its true form. Hogan came in and popped three buckets in the final minutes to give his team momentum and a 34-28 halftime lead.

WHEN THE second half resumed it was lights out for Althoff. Granite took total control running away with 13 unanswered points for a 47-28 margin. The Warriors pressured the Crusaders who didn't score until the four-minute mark of the third frame. The quarter ended with Althoff only tallying eight points to the Warriors 21. With the score 55-36, the game was out of reach for Althoff.

The victory proved the Warriors were a complete team, even without senior center Don Stevanus. Stevanus had twisted his ankle in the week's final practice.

"I DIDN'T want to take any chances and get the big guy hurt because I wanted to make sure he'd be ready for next weekend," stated Deterding referring to the upcoming games with Belleville East and Collinsville.

The absence of Stevanus opened the doors for Jerry Paul, Rich Schierling and Hogan to fill the gaps, proving that the Warriors have bench depth to look to when they need it.

"We've got some depth on the bench. Rich and Jerry played well and we can call on Timmie if we need a few points," reflected Deterding.

The Warriors also proved they were flexible and could adjust on offense. The Crusaders threw a little unusual defense at the Warriors which was aimed to stop Jeff Gray from scoring. Gray responded by putting in 22 points to lead all scorers.

"WE'VE SEEN just about every defense that we're going to see," said Deterding. "It's just a matter of us talking about what we've seen and how we'll react to it."

The defense Althoff played wasn't really a big surprise but the trap defense of the Warriors caught the Crusaders unprepared as they turned the ball over 30 times.

"I'm not going to say that we gave them the game but we turned the ball over 30 times, that's a possible 60 points," commented Althoff rookie head coach Brad Harriman.

Many of those turnovers were forced by the tough Warrior defense.

"WE TOOK advantage of some young inexperienced guards," stated Deterding. "We over reacted a few times after a few steals but besides those we did a pretty good job."

Now the Warriors continue their preparation for the most important weekend of the season. The game against Althoff tested the intensity of Granite's best team in years and they responded with a solid win. Next weekend will be yet another test for the Warriors, but there's no doubt that Coach Deterding will have his cagers prepared and ready to do battle.

Trojans Win
Banks brilliant for TrojansBy JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

ST. JACOB — You might say Madison High's 6-foot-4-inch Reggie Banks did everything but sell popcorn in leading the Trojans to a 51-49 victory over the Triad Knights here Friday night.

Let's see, for starters Banks tossed in 19 points to lift the Trojans to 12-7, despite sitting out much of the time with foul trouble.

In the final four seconds when the Knights made a length of the court bid for a tying bucket, Banks turned in his offensive star card for a defensive whiff.

He pried the ball loose from a Knight player, who had hauled in a long pass. The ball rolled out of bounds.

THE KNIGHTS, with one tick of the clock showing, tried again on the inbound play, sending the ball to Curt Wright, who had scored 21 points to lead scorers.

Banks, despite four fouls, nearly climbed inside Wright's uniform jersey to contest his 15-footer. Wright's shot didn't come close.

Explained Banks, "I met (Wright) in (summer) camp. He's a good shooter?"

Good shooter?

Now comes, perhaps, the most sparkling part about Banks' play. He made nine of 10 shots from the field, the majority of his shots coming from medium range. Banks was so deadly, his only miss came on his easiest attempt. Banks missed a layup.

TAKE THAT back. He missed two shots, the second errant toss coming from the free throw line.

"You missed two shots? You're running when you get home tonight," joked Trojan coach Rodney Watson.

He was joking.

"No, I'm not joking," Watson said. "He missed more than one shot. He's running."

He is joking, right?

"Yeah, He was just kidding," said Banks with a breezy smile.

Banks did everything but score the winning basket. That honor belonged to Deloyd Williams. Even then, however, Banks played a critical role. He was the primary target with 12 seconds left when the Trojans, after skillfully whittling 1:07 seconds off the clock with the score tied at 49, called a timeout to set up a final play.

WITH BANKS covered, the fleet

Williams split the Knight defense on a drive and softly dropped the ball into the basket for the winning margin.

The loss dropped the Knights to 11-8.

"The Madison kids shot real well," said Knight coach Rich Mason who, in turn, bemoaned his team's poor shooting (17 for 53).

The Trojans connected on 23 of 38 shots. Anthony Valentine hit for 10 shots while Williams and James Bennett collected seven and six points respectively.

Then there were Banks. Did someone say the popcorn was ready?

Seebold wins Bahama Grand Prix powerboat championship

ST. LOUIS — World-class powerboat driver Mike Seebold, a member of the Bud Light Racing Team and a former Granite City resident, beat out 30 top drivers, including nine Europeans, to clinch the third annual Bahamas Grand Prix powerboat championship title recently in Nassau.

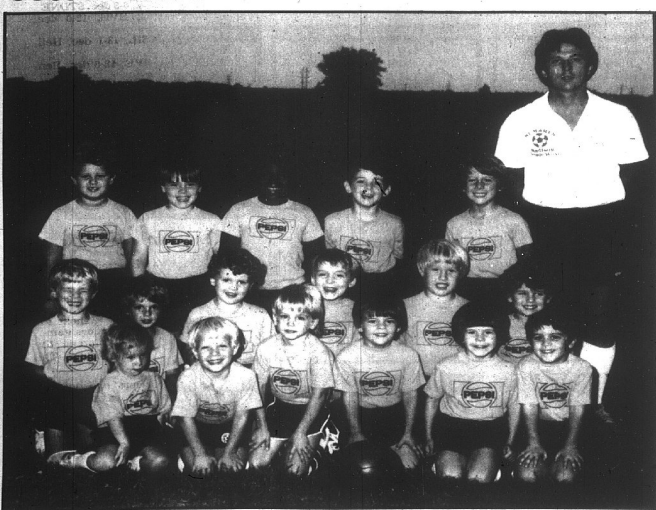

"It was definitely an exciting finish for Michael," said Bill Seebold, Mike's father, also a member of the Bud Light Racing Team. "Finishing at the top is always fun, but when you beat out a field of top European competitors, it makes the victory all the more exciting."

The Seebolds have a sterling list of achievements behind them. Last year, the father-and-son team finished first and second, respectively, at the St. Louis World Championship Grand Prix. In 1982, the elder Seebold placed second in the National Powerboat Association's Point series right behind Mike, who finished first.

The Bud Light Racing Team members, both of St. Louis, are set to compete this year on the International Formula One Circuit as well as at select National Powerboat Association Champ boat events.

HALFTIME HEROES. Members of the Madison Eagles, also known as Pepsi-Golds, were nearly perfect last Wednesday night as they performed during halftime of the St. Louis Steamers-Chicago Sting MISL game in St. Louis. The Eagles proved their supremacy as they defeated their Alton opponents 4-0 as the Steamers similarly had their way with the Sting, winning 4-3. Members of the Eagles are (beginning front left) Jessica Bathon, Jacob Bathon, Joshua Switzer, Brian Petrosky, James Shipley and Philip Kostencki. In the second row are Eric Levy, Kevin Buchek, Rian McCunney, Scott Kendall, Frank Derner III and Matthew Owca. In the back row are Robber Malatki, Keith Brake, Anthony Smith, Jeff Skinner, Aaron Meyer and coach Fred A. Bathon. For their participation in the game, the local youths were given honorary Steamer contracts.

Red Devils slaughter EaglesBy JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record

VENICE — Just from watching Saturday night's pre-game war-maps, it was apparent that the Venice Red Devils would have little problem in disposing of the Columbia Eagles. Venice won 69-61.

While Columbia was ricocheting layups off the glass during pre-game drills, the Red Devils were going through their usual jam session at the other end of the floor.

With each Venice dunk, the whoops and hollers coming from the stands generated a kind of "lead the lamb to slaughter" atmosphere.

THE SHORTER, slower Eagles needed to play their best game of the year to keep pace with the Devils. And for a quarter and a half, they did manage to stay within striking distance.

In a run-and-gun first period, Columbia beat the Venice press and penetrated the Red Devil man-to-man defense for a variety of inside buckets. Mike Hoguel scored eight points in the opening stanza for the Eagles, and Columbia tallied 18 for the quarter.

While the Red Devils' defense was sputtering in the first stanza, their offense was in high gear. Venice forward Charles Milton and center Darren Wise ripped down defensive boards and rifled outlet passes to start fast breaks.

VENICE GASHED in on the majority of those break opportunities, as Jesse Hall dropped in eight and Milton canned nine first period points to lead the Devils to a 24-18 bulge.

But midway through the second quarter, the Eagles went cold. The 15-foot jumper that had fallen for Columbia in the first period, were bouncing off the rim and into the hands of Red Devils.

Meanwhile, a 2-3 Venice zone replaced the ineffective man to man defense, and the Red Devils began to roll. Venice racked up the final 17 points of the half, and limited Columbia to only four baskets in the second stanza. The Red Devils led 49-28 at the intermission, before coasting to a 28-point victory.

AFTERWARD, a somber Columbia coach, Jim Stuart, summed up the contest in brief, to-the-point statements.

"They're (Venice) too good for us," Stuart said. "We didn't do much. We didn't shoot well from outside. We've been playing a good half, but not a whole game."

The overmatched Eagles played well in the first quarter, but once Venice coach Clinton Harris began switching defenses, Columbia's offense became impotent. And the Red Devil offense ran wild.

"We passed the ball and found the open man," said Harris. "We took good shots. We just played good team ball. Our defense was a little shaky at first, but we turned that around in the second half."

The win ups Venice's record to 18-3, while Columbia slips to 8-11. The Red Devils return to action on Friday when they host Hunker Hill. Game time is 6:15 p.m.

NASSP names Kusmierczak as Century III Leader

The National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) has named Stephen Kusmierczak of Granite City as a 1985 Century Leader and awarded him a $1,500 college scholarship. Paul T. Whitcomb of Dixon was the only other Illinois student to receive the honor.

Century III Leaders is a national program designed to recognize and develop exceptional student leaders. Now in its 10th year, it annually awards $216,500 in scholarships.

Kusmierczak is among 102 high school seniors representing every state and the District of Columbia receiving the award.

"These outstanding young leaders represent America's best hope for dealing with the challenges of the future," NASSP Executive Director Scott Thomson commented. "I'm confident they're up to the tasks ahead of them."

Century III Leaders is administered by NASSP and funded by the Shell Companies Foundation.

In addition to the $1,500 scholarship, Kusmierczak will receive an all-expense-paid trip to the Century III Leaders' national conference in Colonial Williamsburg, Va., March 15 through 18. There, he will meet with prominent business, government and academic leaders, while competing for additional scholarships.

Kusmierczak is the son of Stephen and Ann Kusmierczak and attends Granite City High School. He was a former Senate page for U.S. Senator Charles Percy (R-Ill.).

Century III Leaders are selected on the basis of leadership abilities, school and community involvement and an awareness of current events. The program encourages young people to contemplate the problems they will face as future leaders and how they would solve them. Each student leader demonstrates his or her analytical creative thinking by preparing a "Projection for Innovative Leadership," in which a challenge facing America is examined and courses of action are recommended.

The Century III Leaders selection process involves an estimated 350,000 seniors nationwide and begins each October at the high school level. School winners advance to the state level, where they vie for scholarships and a chance to attend the national conference in Williamsburg.

At the national conference, a selection committee will evaluate the 102 participants during seminar discussions and leadership sessions. The national winner will receive a $10,000 scholarship and nine runners-up will receive $500 scholarships.

BOOK MISSOURI MAN ON A THEFT CHARGE

Wallace J. Stone, 40, of University City, Mo., was charged with misdemeanor theft last week in connection with the alleged removal of money from a Granite City News Co. newspaper vending machine located near Granite City Steel property. The alleged offense occurred Jan. 23.

GCS security guards alerted police Tuesday to a man driving a 1984 Mark VII Lincoln Continental and the vehicle was stopped at Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road.

Stone, the driver, was taken into custody and charged in a complaint signed by an employee of the newspaper delivery firm. Stone was released on $102 cash bail, pending a March 1 court appearance date.

TRAILERS BURGLARIZED

Several items appeared to be missing from two trailers used for storage and an office belonging to S.M. Wilson Co., 1728 Cleveland Blvd., which were parked on the street at that location, it was reported last week. Property in the trailers was being inventoried this week.

College program stresses independence

Students enrolled in the College for Independence program are showing improvement in skills, confidence and maturity at mid-term, according to Carolyn Smoot, president of the Parents for Special Education, the group which administers the program.

A unique population is being served through the college series that started last September, Mrs. Smoot explained.

Through the program, a first for the area, developmentally disabled adults are being afforded an opportunity to attend non-credit college courses to improve job and living skills.

Current enrollment is 34, with most of the students taking two or three courses, she said. The faculty consists of volunteer teachers, including four certified in special education.

Funding was obtained through a mini-grant provided by the Governor's Planning Council on Developmental Disabilities and awarded to the Parents for Special Education group.

Classes in typing, welding, cooking, sewing reading, job skills, budgeting, automotive and computers are being conducted at the Granite City Center, Venice-Lincoln Technical Center and the Coordinated Youth Services facility.

Among the volunteer teachers are Paul McCord, Bob Gagliano, Vivian Dine, Bernice Myers, Audrey Pithen, Kay Hahne, Barbara Castillo, Henry Hellrich, Dorothy Lajewski, Bob Milhorn, Arla Milhorn, Linda Green and Mrs. Smoot.

Community support has come from Coordinated Youth Services, the Community Transit Authority and Granite City Steel, it was noted.

Mrs. Smoot said the pilot program has proved so successful that new classes are being planned and a waiting list has been established. Additional funds currently are being sought to continue the college program, she added.

Further information about classes may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Smoot at 931-2943.

THIEF DAMAGES A VAN
Two speakers valued at $90 and a tool box containing assorted mechanic's tools worth $50 were stolen from a 1979 van, parked in the driveway at the home of Bob Brooksher, 2532 Jerden Ave. An attempt to steal an AM-FM radio cassette player from the dashboard also caused damage, the owner said.

THIEF DAMAGES VAN
Ray Harris, 2617 E. 24th St., reported last week that a thief entered his 1979 GMC van by prying a wing window. A side mirror knocked off of the van was found in the street by a neighbor who returned it, he said.

Anniversaries

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Meyer

Legion Auxiliary 'crazy bowl' set

The 22nd District American Legion Auxiliary bowling chairman, Priscilla Mathus, announces a "crazy bowl" program for members and friends of the district.

The affair is scheduled for March 3 at 2 p.m. at the Airport Plaza bowl in Bethalto.

Participants may enter as a team or couple and there will be $5 registration fee that will include the cost of bowling and lunch after the competition.

Reservations must be made no later than Feb. 20 by contacting Mrs. Mathus at 529 Crestview Drive, R.R. 1, East Alton, Ill.

Golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Meyer

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Meyer of Granite City observed their 50th wedding anniversary quietly at their home on Monday, Jan. 28, which is the date of their marriage.

Mr. Irwin, formerly of Republic, Mo., and his wife, Ruth, a native of Sarcoxie, Mo., met in Joplin, Mo. and were united in marriage on Jan. 28, 1935 in Media, Penn.

He studied engineering and graduated from the University of Missouri at Rolla. Mr. Meyer later worked for General Steel Industries as a jig and fixture designer for 39 years and retired there in 1967.

Mrs. Meyer was active in a theatre group as well as a homemaker and wife.

Jr. Service donates funds

Granite City Junior Service Club members agreed to donate monies to various projects at its January meeting conducted at Nameoki United Methodist Church.

Contributions were made to St. Elizabeth Medical Center Meals on Wheels program that aids shut in citizens in the Quad-City area, and provided funds to furnish eye glasses for two elementary school children.

They also will reinstate the pizza project and named Debbie McMillian and Joanne Waymire as co-chairmen. Club members will sell the food item and the chairman will prepare pizza's during the latter part of this month.

The club will host its annual Hobby Auction and combined "probie party" this month, the president announced.

Guest for the evening was Dianne Moran and others attending were Renee Tanase, Sarah Repp, Faith Holsinger, Gail Miosky, Pat Murphy, Joyce Curran, Carolyn Yates, Donna Sprinkle, Donna Polivick, Jeannie Wilbur, Laura Rapoff, Becky Serlich, JoEllie Harris and Lynette Burnett.

Granite Chapter honors officers

Wanda MacDonough, worthy matron of Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, introduced Dorothy Watkins as special guest of the night during the January meeting of the chapter.

Members and guests met at the Masonic Temple for the session when special honors were accorded to 11 past matrons and four past patrons. After they were introduced a poem was read and dedicated in their honor as each one received a gift.

Those noted as being ill included, Lloyd and Sammie James, Ruby Hocking, Rose Albert and John Baker. A note of thanks was received from Wanda Bartling for a gift she received.

The worthy matron appointed a committee to include Betty Ebrecht, Varsenig Throne and Mary Ellen Lewis, to recreate funeral emblems in silk flowers. Mrs. Ebrecht distributed new funeral robes she donated in memory of her mother, Mrs. Louise Orr.

Mrs. Ebrecht also announced she has giraffe pins available.

It was announced the next meeting will be Friends Night and an oriental theme will be used for decorating motifs. Each member is encouraged to dress in an oriental costume, the worthy matron noted.

Grand Lecturer Hazel Wood conducted a school of instruction including the new changes. She was assisted by Jo Ann Nee, Arline Fox, Orvin Dieckman and Varsenig Throne.

Mrs. MacDonough thanked the officers and past officers for serving then presented a gift to Mrs. Watkins who responded by reading a poem relating to the occasion.

Mrs. Kathryn Edmonds spoke on a visit she made to a chapter in Texas and was "treated royally." Earl and Mary French visited the birthday bank in honor of Mrs. French birthday and their wedding anniversary.

Members and guests adjourned to the dining room where tables were decorated with miniature thimbles and baskets of yarn in keeping with a craft theme. Mary Petrosian and Virginia Johns received the large ceramic big thimble planter centerpieces.

Several displays were in the dining room to exhibit various officers hobbies that included a collection of cups and saucers, miniatures in wood, oil painting, needlepoint, hand crochet tablecloth, knitted afghan, pine needle basketry, crochet baby lap pad and broomslick afghan.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Barnes

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Barnes celebrates 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin (Joyce) Barnes, 2520 State St., celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon at the Elks Lodge, 1329 Niedringhaus Ave.

Both are former residents of Cairo, Ill., and they were married on Feb. 3, 1935 in Metropolis, Ill. Mr. Barnes was employed as a reporter on that city daily paper.

Mr. Barnes, a sports reporter for most of his working life, retired at age 70 in August 1981 from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville where he was Sports Information Director. He was employed at SIUE for 14 years.

He also worked for the St. Louis Star-Times from 1945 to 1961 and for the past three years he has written a sports column for the Granite City Press-Record called "Sports of All Sorts" as well as feature stories each month.

Mr. Barnes does on occasion cover sporting events for the newspaper as well as writing free lance sports stories. His most recent one was in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and recounted the exploits of the Amazing Appleknockers of Cobden, Ill., in March of 1984.

Until her retirement in 1981, Mrs. Barnes was a sales manager for a plastic dinnerware manufacturer, and for 20 years has taught contract bridge in Granite City at various times. She is presently involved with two courses at the local YMCA one for beginners and one for advanced pupils.

The honorees are the parents of five children, Alvin T. Barnes III, Patricia Joyce Early, Michael Patrick Barnes, Foster H. Barnes and Anne Schaller. They also have 11 grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Schutzenhofer-Levart

Miss Patricia Ann Levart and Christopher LeRoy Schutzenhofer were united in marriage at 6 o'clock in the evening on Jan. 23, in the home of Judge George Moran.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Levart, 3104 E. 23rd St. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schutzenhofer, 2201 Delmar Ave.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Lisa A. Ward and the groom chose Greg Stoicheff as best man.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School South. The bride is employed as a teller at Processor's Industrial Credit Union.

The groom currently is with the U.S. Navy and is studying to become a fire control technician.

Party honors Meagan Stearns

Meagan Stearns celebrated her sixth birthday at a party given at Pantara's Pizza, last week.

Guests attending included Kristy Engelke, Dana Watkins, Dawn Zaraba, Brandi Argent, Julie and Brandi Myers, Brianna Crushel, Lisa Van, Stephanie Awalt, Amanda White, Elena Miner and brothers of the guest of honor, David and Matthew Stearns.

Games were played during the social event and prizes awarded.

SURGETTE

We Make Surgery Convenient For You

Join Us on Sunday, February 10, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City, Ill., and get acquainted with our Surgette Unit.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center will be hosting an open house to celebrate the opening of our Surgette Unit on Sunday, February 10.

It will be a unique opportunity for you to learn about the convenience and reliability of Surgette. Surgette is a one-day care unit for minor surgeries in which the patient need not be put to sleep under a general anesthesia, without requiring the patient to be hospitalized overnight.

The open house will give you a chance to view the Surgette facility. You will see demonstrations of the techniques and technology used on the unit. Medical center professionals will be on hand to conduct tests and give you information. You'll learn methods of evaluating your own health, and you'll be able to have your health appraised by a computer. And it will all be free of charge.

What you'll learn at this open house may surprise you. It may even persuade you to use Surgette the next time you or a family member requires minor surgery. Come be our guest now and you'll always be a friend.

"The outpatient Surgette is wonderful... you knew you could go home afterward and relax." — Bob York

Miss Bogosian becomes actuary

Carol Ann Bogosian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor and Frances Bogosian, residents of Granite City, has been named an associate of the Society of Actuaries (A.S.A.).

To be named an associate, Miss Bogosian successfully completed an intensive course of study and examination administered by the society on the basic concepts underlying the financial analysis of risk and its application to life and health insurance, pensions and other security programs.

Actuaries are trained mathematicians who study and evaluate risks and determine the costs of benefit programs such as pension plans or life insurance policies. They also are frequently expert in the design of such programs, in computer systems, finance, marketing and management.

The Society of Actuaries, an international organization of professional actuaries, performs research in actuarial science, provides continuing education for members and maintains standards of competence and conduct.

Miss Bogosian is a consulting actuary with William M. Mercer-Medinger, Inc., Chicago, Ill. She received a bachelors degree in education in 1974 and a masters degree in mathematics in 1976, both from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Miss Bogosian currently resides in Palatine, Ill.

Marriage and Family session at shrine

Marriage and Family program at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows will sponsor a "Share and Care" rap session, Tuesday, Feb. 5 in the Dr. Tom Dooley Center from 7 to 9 p.m.

The session is an unstructured discussion group led by the individual members who have previously participated in any of the Growth Group activities. The topics and discussions will be determined by the individual session leaders.

These sessions will be held every first Tuesday of the month. For more information those interested may contact Father Leo Figge, OMI, at the Shrine, 397-6700 (TTY), or from St. Louis, 241-3400 (TTY).

Prayer-Self Denial program set Feb. 14

The women of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church will observe a program of Call to Prayer and Self-Denial on Feb. 14 beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the church parlor.

Theme for this year's event and offering is "Women and Work." During the quiet day service they will be meditation on the theme and on shalom the Hebrew word for peace, unity, partnership, well being, health, community, wholeness and justice.

Shalom is the goal of all the women who have had a history of working for economic and social justice, according to a church spokesman.

SIUE anthropologist conducts excavation at Cahokia Mounds

Evidence uncovered during an archaeological excavation at Cahokia Mounds has revealed the existence of 14 prehistoric structures, 53 pits, a hearth, six postmolds, a possible palisade line segment, a mound and a borrow pit.

The test excavation was conducted by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for the State Department of Conservation, with William L. Woods, member of the anthropological faculty at the university, as principal investigator.

THE AREA UNDER investigation is being considered as a site for a proposed interpretive center at Cahokia Mounds.

According to Woods, the primary objectives of the investigation were to define features near the surface relating to the Late Woodland and Mississippian occupations of the site and to determine the relative density of archaeological remains within the proposed construction area.

A study of aerial photographs of the site had revealed within the study area the existence of four possible unrecorded mounds, four possible palisade lines, a large prehistoric residential area and a prehistoric borrow pit.

TO SAMPLE topographic features and verify as many cultural features identified on the photographs as possible, four test trenches, tied into a master grid, were dug within the proposed construction area.

Woods said that a controlled surface collection of the area yielded a quantity of cultural material. After the overburden was removed, 77 features were defined and mapped. These consisted of 14 structures, 53 pits, one hearth, six post molds, a possible palisade line segment, a mound and a prehistoric borrow pit.

Woods said the borrow pit, which extended for more than 50 meters within one five-meter wide trench, appeared to have filled in naturally over time. The trench also contained materials and features within it suggesting subsequent prehistoric utilization.

THE MOUND, the borrow pit, and selected features were cored in order to record depth and fill descriptions.

Ceramics recovered during the investigation are primarily late Emergent Mississippian Period to Mississippian Period Stirling phase materials, although earlier and later periods were represented. Bits of ceramics from jar, bowl, bottle, beaker, juice press and stoneware vessel forms were represented among the materials uncovered. Shell and shell with grog admixture were among the most commonly occurring tempers discovered during the investigation, along with limestone and grit.

Woods said predominant vessel surfaces were plain, red-filmed and black-filmed, with cordmarking relatively rare. He said a few sherds exhibited incising. An effigy, or crude likeness of a person, which he said possibly came from a hooded water bottle or bowl, was found in the mound area backfill, along with a portion of a vessel with parallel exterior ridges.

THE AREA UNDER investigation is located to the southeast of Monks Mound. Woods said data from the investigation will help in determining the site for the new interpretive center.

SIUE sets dance event Feb. 7-9

Ballet, jazz, modern and musical theater styles of dancing are represented on the 12-number program for "Dance: In Concert," the major annual dance event of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Theater. There will be three performances: Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 7 to 9, at 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

Ten of the numbers have been choreographed by members of the SIUE faculty, with the other two originating from faculty members at the Carbondale campus.

THE VARIETY of styles is reflected by the quiet, reflective solo entitled "Soliloquy," to the crowded and flashy "Who Are These Guys?" Mood swings go from the serious in "Secret Spaces," to the comic "Cocaine." More than 30 dancers will participate, most of them advanced students at Edwardsville or Carbondale.

The concert will be coordinated by Audrey M. Tallant, director of dance at SIUE. Lighting design is by David J. Hill of the SIUE theater faculty, while Kathryn G. McCarty is the stage manager.

Free parking is available behind the Communications Theater building on evenings of performances. For tickets, reservations and other information, interested persons may call 1-692-2773.

Nursing school hosts open house

The School of Nursing at Missouri Baptist Hospital will present a conference Sunday, Feb. 10, at 2 p.m. for people interested in nursing as a career. The Nursing Life Conference will be held at the School of Nursing on the hospital campus, 3015 N. Ballas Road, Town and Country.

Junior and senior high school students are invited to receive information about 1984-85 enrollment and the school's 24-month diploma program, including prerequisites, cost, financial aid, and job opportunities.

Ideas journal available at SIUE

The latest editions of "Seedbed," a journal of ideas for the classroom, are ready for distribution at the Teachers' Center Project at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The books contain a collection of classroom-tested activities that provide ways to approach problem solving in language and mathematics for children. Authors of the articles in both books are pre-school and elementary teachers from the area.

"SEEDBOOK 20" DEALS with activities and research developed by Teachers' Center participants or school and home use. "Seedbook 21" focuses largely on the use of microcomputers in the education of children. Artwork for the cover of "Seedbook 20" was created by the

THE PROGRAM will be presented by faculty members who will also answer questions. There will be a video presentation, informal discussion and a tour of dormitory facilities and the hospital.

The School of Nursing at Missouri Baptist Hospital is fully accredited by the National League for Nursing and the Missouri State Board of Nursing.

For information about the conference or the school, students may call Debra Canham, director, or Clark Triplett, admissions and financial aid coordinator at 1-314-569-5193.

President Earl Lazerson of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville said today he is "very pleased" with Gov. James Thompson's budget recommendations for higher education, announced at a series of news conferences around the state Thursday.

"I am very pleased with the governor's recommendations, and I am optimistic that the Legislature will consider the recommendations carefully and favorably," President Lazerson said.

"I BELIEVE WE may be entering upon a period in which our resources will enable us to address our most compelling needs," the President continued. "The governor's recommendations will provide a budget that will enable us to do the job we must do in this region."

The governor's proposals are based on salary increases of eight percent, as recommended by the Illinois Board of Higher Education. Also included in the recommendations are funds for major program initiatives, particularly in areas supporting economic development, improving the quality of undergraduate education, and cooperative efforts with elementary and secondary schools.

"We look forward with great anticipation," President Lazerson said. "At SIUE we have successfully resolved a series of formidable fiscal challenges. In recent years we sustained deep budgetary reductions that would have tested the most mature of institutions. We have come through this period of trial with renewed confidence in our shared purposes and common commitment to educational priorities."

THE PRESIDENT said he is especially pleased with the support of the IBHE and the governor in furthering the university's proposal for a Center for Advanced Manufacturing and Production to assist business and industry in developing advanced technology. The budget recommendations include $248,000 to establish the Center.

Registration still open for telecourses

Students can earn college credit this winter without driving to campus every week. Belleville Area College's telecourses gives students this opportunity.

Telecourse students receive a study guide and assignments in conjunction with programs shown on television. Few visits to campus are required.

This spring are: "An Invitation to Fly: Basics for the Private Pilot," viewings of tapes will be arranged; "The Living Environment," 6:15 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, Channel 9; "The New Literacy," 6:15 to 6:45 a.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays, Channel 9; and 3:30 to 4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays, Channel 9; "The Business of Management," 3 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays, Channel 8; "America: The Second Century," 7 to 8 a.m. Saturdays, Channel 9 and "Vietnam," 8 p.m. Mondays, Channel 8.

"American Playhouse," 8 p.m. Mondays, Channel 9; "Understanding Human Behavior," 8 to 9 a.m. Saturdays, Channel 9; "Growing Years," 7:30 to 8:30 a.m. Sundays, Channel 9 and "Focus on Society," 9 to 10 a.m. Saturdays, Channel 9.

STUDENTS MAY register for telecourses by calling 1-235-3700, extension 200, or 593-0600 and may use VISA or MasterCard to pay tuition and fees.

Students may also register by visiting the telecourse office in room 1275 at the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

Donation to college fund helps seniors

This winter will be a little warmer for some older persons, thanks to the generosity of Steve Wolf of Belleville. Wolf donated $1,000 to Belleville Area College's Outreach program. The money will be used to help senior citizens pay their utility bills.

Wolf is the owner and manager of Calvin Johnson Nursing Home in Belleville. "My whole career is centered on servicing the elderly," Wolf said. "I've been on the Program and Services for Older Persons advisory council for many years and I know what kind of need there is out there."

THE OUTREACH Program is one of many offered by BAC's Programs and Services for Older Persons. Its goal is to help senior citizens stay in their homes as long as possible by providing services within the home, such as light housekeeping and meals. The program also assists the elderly with assistance in applying for government programs and provides counseling to families concerning nursing-home and hospice placement, illness, and death.

Farm column

Sessions planned on soil fertility and gardening

By RONALD E. CORNWELL
Extension Advisor

Cutting fertilizer usage on row crops in 1985 without reducing crop yields will be one of the topics of discussion at the Soil Fertility Seminar on Wednesday, Feb. 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the Extension office, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville.

Bob Hoelt, University of Illinois Extension soil fertility specialist, will be the speaker for the program. Hoelt also will discuss the effect of tillage systems on the distribution of fertilizer in the soil. He also will cover changing the fertilizer placement in the soil based on the tillage system used on your farm.

With the amount of reduced tillage being carried out in Madison County, farmers often wonder how effective their fertilizer management program is under the situation. Hoelt will discuss nitrogen management under different reduced tillage situations.

Other topics that will be covered include: the changes in the quality of available limestone; how important is soil testing in determining fertilizer needs. The Soil Fertility Meeting is planned by the Agriculture Extension Service Agronomy Committee in Madison County. William Klenke, Hamel area, is chairman of the committee.

VEGETABLE GARDENING These cold, snow days are the time to plan gardens for this spring. Interested persons may obtain help and advice on planning gardens by attending a Vegetable Gardening Seminar on Thursday, Feb. 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Extension office, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville.

This program will cover all areas of vegetable varieties, diseases, insect problems and common weed problems. Information will be presented on raising tomatoes, green peppers, sweet corn, green beans, lettuce, squash, melons and many other vegetables in the garden.

Chris Doll, area adviser in fruits and vegetables, will be the speaker for the program. To help provide additional information to home gardeners, we have the Illinois Vegetable Garden Guide available at the extension office, which sells for $2. This publication covers all aspects of vegetable gardening.

The vegetable gardening program was planned by the agriculture Extension Council Horticulture Committee. People serving on the committee include: Walter Bohn, Udo Meyer, Carolyn Losch, Orville Cooper, Diane White, Gary Greenwood, Patty Taylor, Ed Gerstenacker and Mary Strakel John.

GROUND MAINTENANCE The Grounds Maintenance School will be held Monday, Feb. 11, at 9 a.m. at Belleville Area College.

This school is open to both homeowners and professional interested in information on grounds maintenance. The program covers tips on maintaining landscapes, turf care, diagnostic shade tree problems, controlling insect and weed problems and many other topics.

There will be a registration fee payable at the door. A trade show is being held with the program. Additional information on the program is available from the Madison County Extension office at 1-656-8400.

CROP SCOUTING WORKSHOP

The Crop Scouting Workshop will be held Tuesday, Feb. 12, from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Extension office in Edwardsville. The Crop Scouting Workshop consists of in-depth workshops in identifying insects, plant diseases and weeds.

We need a minimum of 15 people registered in advance before the workshops will be held. To register, interested persons may contact the Extension office in Edwardsville by calling 1-656-8400.

GRAPE PROGRAM

A program on grape production will be held Monday, Feb. 18, from 7 to 8:10 p.m. at Augustine's Alpinette Room in Belleville.

The program will provide information on the different grape varieties and their uses, grape culture and explore potential for growing and marketing grapes and grape products.

There will be a $2 registration fee per family.

USDA to conduct survey on farming

A nationwide survey is now being conducted through early March by the USDA Statistical Reporting Service to determine 1984 farm production expenditures and the cost of producing crops.

In Illinois, approximately 1,100 of the state's 80,000 farms will be included in the survey. About a third of the farmers contacted will be asked about costs of producing crops.

Past USDA surveys show that U.S. farmers spent more than $13 billion in 1983 to produce crops, livestock and poultry. Farm production expenditures need to be surveyed to establish the farmers' financial well-being compared with other sectors of the nation's economy, to compute the parity price index and to help establish estimates of net farm income.

Even though USDA officials know that production expenses have been increasing, the annual survey helps to measure total farm expenses, their impact on net farm income and the actual percentage change from year to year. It also helps determine if farmers are buying and the percentage each group of commodities is of the total expenditure.

USDA officials report that for agriculture, 1984 was another year of continued unfavorable cost-price relationships for Illinois farmers. Weatherwise, the season began with wet weather, turned dry in midsummer and was followed by a wet fall harvest.

Individual responses to the survey will be kept confidential and only national and regional summaries will be published.

For further information, interested persons may contact Fred S. Barrett, agricultural statistician in charge, Post Office Box 628, Springfield, Ill., 62705, telephone 1-217-492-4295.

$25,000 fire at GC dwelling

Granite City firefighters were successful in containing a fire the first floor of a residence at 2560 Bladize Ave. Sunday night. The blaze may have been caused by defective wiring, a spokesman for the fire department said today.

Firefighters went to the scene at 9:30 p.m. Sunday and remained there for 2½ hours. Mrs. Edna McKay is listed as the owner-occupant of the two-story frame house.

The fire seriously damaged the basement and the kitchen and dining room on the first floor, but was primarily centered above the furnace, reports said.

Estimated damage listed $15,000 loss to the structure and $10,000 loss to contents.

New ruling on local lawyers

U.S. District Judge James B. Parsons last week dismissed a lawsuit by Madison County lawyers seeking to block the Illinois Attorney Registration and Disciplinary Commission from proceeding with professional misconduct complaints.

In his ruling at Chicago, the federal judge agreed to let them remain in their suit within six months if the Illinois Supreme Court does not in the meantime address constitutional issues raised by them.

THE COMPLAINTS were filed in April 1984 with the commission, an agency of the Supreme Court, against William Schooley Jr., Leon G. Scrogg and Morris B. Chapman and William S. Beatty, all with Granite City offices, Jon G. Carlson of Edwardsville and L. Thomas Lakin of East Alton.

They were accused of active efforts in the 1980 judicial election campaign against retention of Circuit Judges Victor Mosele and John DeLaurenti of the 3rd Circuit. The two were defeated by voters but DeLaurenti later regained his judgeship.

Chapman and Carlson, former law partners, also were said to have hired a private investigator in 1978 to check on evening activities of Appellate Judge John M. Karns.

REGARDING MOSELE and DeLaurenti, the six contributed to a Committee for an Improved Judiciary whose employee, it is charged, made statements including erroneous statistics on judicial rulings.

The lawyers filing the suit, Carlson, Chapman, Schooley and Lakin, say they were merely exercising their constitutional free speech rights as citizens and voters.

Judge Parsons acknowledged that he found "no evidence of bad faith, conspiracy or other extraordinary circumstances."

Charge driver DUI after 3-car mishap

After a three-vehicle accident at Nameoki and Pontoon roads at 11:35 p.m. Saturday, Randy L. Fordyce, 28, of 2143 Delmar Ave., was booked on three traffic charges, including driving under the influence of alcohol.

According to police reports, Fordyce's auto was northbound on Nameoki Road when it struck the rear end of an auto operated by Daniel S. Lienemann, 16, of 4916 Hills Ave., who was halted at a red light at Pontoon Road.

The impact pushed Lienemann's vehicle into the rear of another car, driven by Jesse L. Laswell, 17, of Collinsville, who also was stopped for the traffic light in front of Lienemann's car.

Fordyce allegedly left the scene, heading east on Pontoon Road and being chased by one of the drivers involved until he was stopped at Pontoon Road and Moro Avenue.

Officers found Fordyce outside his car at the location and placed him under arrest. He consented to a blood alcohol test at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident and leaving the scene of an accident with an injury.

Lienemann sustained an injury in the mishap and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

EXPERT APPRAISING MORRIS REALTY CO.

HE ADDED THAT if disciplinary commission rules "are enforced in such a way as to provide that a lawyer cannot speak freely on any issue, including the retention of the judiciary, then they are unconstitutional."

"A lawyer must have the same right to freedom of speech as any citizen, regardless of how unseemly it may appear to be to the monitoring agency."

Parsons ruled that the lawyers' claims should be heard by the top state court, since the commission is an investigative body of that court and the Illinois Supreme Court will make the final decision on the charges.

The commission contended in its dismissal motion that federal courts lacked jurisdiction. It said prior court decisions have established the state court's authority to discipline Illinois lawyers.

Charge 2 with auto burglaries

Gerald S. Crawford, 18, of 2238 Missouri Ave. and Thomas A. Swafford, 18, of Wright City, Mo., were charged with three counts each of auto burglary on Thursday. They had been arrested the previous day at W. 23rd Street and Missouri Avenue. Bail was set at $2,500 cash for each prisoner at hearings Thursday.

Two of the counts related to property of the Belsch family at 2211 Dewey Ave. and the third count was linked to the car of the Reynolds family, 2212 Missouri Ave.

MOTORIST HURT AT NAMEOKI AND CLARK

An accident at Nameoki Road and Clark Avenue at 4:30 p.m. Sunday resulted in injuries to Vivian B. Schnyder, 81, of 2816 Yale Drive. She was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

Driver of the second vehicle involved was Chris D. Kozuch, 32, of 2109 Johnson Road, who was northbound on Rehoboth Road. Mrs. Schnyder's car was "straddling west from Clark Avenue and she was cited for failure to yield at an intersection, reports said.

DAMAGE TO AUTO

Damage to a rear panel were damaged on the 1973 auto of Keith Valenzuela, 1739 Edison Ave., he reported last week. Paint on the hood also had been cracked by the vandals, he said.

LEGAL NOTICE

The Madison County Board of Review in accordance with Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 120, Section 588, Paragraph (5), has determined that it is necessary to equalize the real property assessments in the county.

The Department of Revenue has issued a tentative county multiplier of 1.0000, however, the following changes will go into effect to equalize the townships between themselves:

Township	Percent Increase needed to attain 33 1/3%
Edwardsville	1.0354
Foster	1.0125
Mono	1.0370
Olive	1.0215
Pin Oak	1.0124
Saline	1.0319
St. Jacob	1.0322

Township	Percent Decrease needed to attain 33 1/3%
Alton	9852
Chautauque	9864
Fullerton	9884
Granite City	9884
Hamel	9550
Helvetia	9803
Jarvis	9841
Leef	9253
Marine	9520
Nameoki	9297
New Douglas	9297
Omphugh	9258
Wood River	9896

Said changes shall apply to all classes of real property; provided, however, that said changes shall not apply to farmland pursuant to Illinois Revised Statutes Chapter 120, Paragraph (501e).

A Board of Review hearing will be held to afford interested persons an opportunity to be heard on the proposed changes, which shall not take effect until after such hearing.

Interested persons may appear at the Board of Review Room at 116 Hillsboro on February 21, 1985, at 10:00 A.M. if they wish to be heard.

SEALED BIDS WANTED

Sealed Bids will be received by the Bi-State Development Agency of the Missouri Metropolitan District for Cleaning of Bus Passenger Shelters.

Each bid shall be made in accordance with certain specifications as outlined in Sealed Bid No. 1165 furnished for that purpose. Copies of the specifications may be obtained at the office of the Agency's Purchasing Division, 707 North First Street, St. Louis, MO 63102.

The Bi-State Development Agency hereby notifies all bidders that in regard to any contract entered into pursuant to this Sealed Bid, advertisement or solicitation, disadvantaged/women business enterprises will be afforded full opportunity to submit bids in response, and will not be subject to discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, age, physical handicap or national origin in consideration for an award. All bidders will be required to comply with all applicable equal opportunity rules and regulations and equal opportunity policies, and procedures established by the Human Rights Commission, Public Contracts Division, 32 West Randolph Street, Chicago, IL 60601, prior to the bid receipt date. This may be accomplished by submitting a completed IEP Form PC-1 to the Illinois Human Rights Commission prior to bid receipt. These forms are furnished with all specifications.

The Bi-State Development Agency solicits and encourages disadvantaged/women business enterprise participation with regard to this project. DBE's will be afforded full consideration of their responses and will not be subject to discrimination. Respondents will be required to comply with the agency's Disadvantaged/Women Program goal requirements where applicable.

A pre-bid conference will be held for all interested parties on February 11, 1985 at 2:00 p.m. St. Louis Time, in the 5th floor Conference Room, 707 North First Street, St. Louis, MO.

Bids will be received at the Purchasing Division of the Bi-State Development Agency, 707 North First Street, St. Louis, MO 63101 until 2:00 p.m. February 18, 1985. Any bid received after the time referred to above will not be considered and will be returned to the sender unopened. Bi-State reserves the right to accept any and all bids on such a basis as purchaser deems to be in its best interest.

Commission allows ATTCI to make use of flexible rates

The Illinois Commerce Commission has approved a request by ATTCI Communications of Illinois (ATTCI) to make use of flexible or banded rates for long distance calls within Illinois.

The action by the commission will permit ATTCI to more quickly respond to competitive changes in the telecommunications marketplace. Based upon Jan. 1, 1984, rate levels, the company now will be allowed to decrease its Illinois long distance rates by as much as 20 percent, with only one-day notice required. Rate increases of up to 15 percent may be applied only after it provides 30-days notice.

Philip R. O'Connor, chairman of the commission said, "It is my expectation that the commission's action will make the pricing of long

Brother of GC resident dies in Caseyville home

Frank "Spur" Chosnyka, 71, the brother of a Granite City resident, died at 3:42 a.m. Friday, Feb. 2, 1985. A resident of Caseyville, he died at home.

Mr. Chosnyka was a former resident of East St. Louis and Keyport, Ill. He was employed as a cheese processor for 43 years by Swift and Co., East St. Louis.

He was a member of the Packing House Workers Union, Local 78 and the Senior Citizens of Keyport, Ill. He was a former member of the Knights of Columbus Council 592 in East St. Louis, a former president of the Holy Name Society of St. Stephen's Church and various bowling teams in the Metro-East and Carlyle areas.

He was preceded in death by two brothers, John and Joe Chosnyka. Among the survivors are his wife, the former Bernice Marek and one sister, Mrs. Eva Boyle of Granite City.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p.m. today, Feb. 4, at St. Albert the Great Church, Fairview Heights, with the Rev. Gene Lineman presiding. Burial will follow in St. Adalbert's Cemetery, Fairview Heights. Kasky-Colonial Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

RETURN WITH US TO...

MICHAEL RAFFETTO

MICHAEL RAFFETTO WAS THE ASSISTANT WRITER AND DIRECTOR OF ONE OF THE MOST FAMOUS TV SERIES... THE ROLE OF PAUL.

IN EARLY RADIO MIKE HAD HIS OWN SERIES... ARMS OF THE LAW.

RAFFETTO WAS THE ORIGINAL JACK BACKYARD ON I LOVE A MYSTERY. JACK, ALONG WITH HIS COMRADES BOB AND REGGIE, KEPT RADIO LISTENERS SPELLBOUND. JACK WAS THE ANALYTICAL BRAIN OF THE A-1 DETECTIVE AGENCY. THE UNSENTIMENTAL TOUGH GUY WAS THE IDEAL OF AMERICAN STRENGTH AND MIKE RAFFETTO'S VOICE WAS IDEAL IN THAT ROLE.

PHIL COOK

by Bill Owen
 Dr. Woodward

WHILE APPEARING ON NBC BLUE FOR QUAKER OATS IN 1950, COOK WAS BILLED AS THE QUAKER OATS MAN.

ONE OF THE LEADING RADIO PERSONALITIES OF THE 1930S WAS PHIL COOK, WHOSE ACT INCLUDED SINGING, CHATTING AND PLAYING THE UKULELE. HE WAS ALSO A MASTER OF DISGUISE, HIS VOICE TO PLAY VARIOUS CHARACTERS IN HIS ONE-MAN SKETCHES.

COOK OFTEN SANG THE DAY'S NEWS IN RHYME BEGINNING WITH THE LINE "I SEE BY THE PAPERS..."

A MAN FROM NEW YORK CITY HAS DONE SOMETHING WITTY...

THE DEC. 1930 ISSUE OF POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY CARRIED AN ARTICLE ON COOK. HERE'S AN EXCERPT...

RISES AT 6 A.M. GETS THE MORNING PAPER AT 6:20 AND SELECTS THREE NEWS ITEMS OF NATIONAL INTEREST. WRITES DITTIES ABOUT THEM AND INSERTS THESE IN THE MORNING SHOW WHICH WAS WRITTEN THE NIGHT BEFORE. THIS IS FINISHED AT 7 A.M. GOES ON AIR AT 8 AND AGAIN AT 9 FOR CENTRAL AND MOUNTAIN TIME ZONES. AFTER A NAP AND LUNCH, WRITES EVENING SHOW. GOES ON AIR AT 7:30 P.M. GOES HOME AND WRITES MORNING SHOW, WHICH IS COMPLETED ABOUT 1 A.M. HARD WORK AND LONELY BUT HIS SALARY IS SAID TO BE ABOUT $50,000 A YEAR.
